Comstock involved at Emmons

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Barbara Comstock, school board candidate for Emmons School, has chosen to run for one of the three open seats to increase her involvement at the school.

"I am already on several steering committees," said Comstock. "I like my involvement with the school on that level. I'm just glad to be involved with the school."

Comstock, past president of Emmons PTO and currently the treasurer of that organization, has a first-grader at the school. In addition, her oldest daughter graduated from Emmons and is now a senior at Antioch Community High School.

Comstock was very involved in the successful referendum movement for the new addition to the school. She was co-chair of the referendum committee and has lived in the school district for 16 years.

She is not looking to change the school if she is elected. "I'm looking forward to working with them (other board members)," explains Comstock. "They have been doing a good job."

Emmons School District has three openings on the board with four candidates on deck. In addition to the regular openings on the board, the newly elected board will also need to appoint another to replace former board member Janet Quist.

More parking considered for church

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Limited expanded parking and a walkway are being considered for the United Methodist Church in Antioch. The church has approached the village regarding parking problems and is hoping to use the Antioch

Senior Center parking lot on Sundays.

"Would it be all right for them to use that facility," asked Antioch Village Administrator Tim Wells, "assuming there is no scheduling conflict?"

According to Wells, the center is rarely used on Sundays.

However, some board members were concerned. "My only concern is a conflict with the senior center," said Trustee Dorothy Larson.

In addition to using the parking lot, the church is hoping to put a blacktop walkway from the senior center to the church, on the north end of the "Horton" property. The walkway would be 8 feet wide.

The Antioch Senior Center is owned by the Village of Antioch, although the bulk of the walkway would be on church property. The church would maintain the walk.

"We should ask them to put a post in the center to keep people from driving through," suggested Trustee Ron Cunningham. Board members agreed with this idea, and suggested a removable post.

While the village will require the church to add the village on insurance riders, the board approved the concept. "I don't have any problems with it," said Wells. "I would approve it."

Get rid of unwanted hazardous wastes

Five area communities are supporting a drive to help get rid of what nobody wants — hazardous wastes.

The villages of Antioch, Lake Villa, Round Lake, Round Lake Beach, Round Lake Park, Baxter Healthcare and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) have all combined to see aside Oct. 7 from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. as a clean-up day for hazardous wastes.

There is no charge to bring these materials. Residents from throughout Lake County may bring the materials in.

IEPA representatives will be on hand to determine what is acceptable and what isn't.

Among the items allowed include paint, paint remover, insecticides, weed killer, fungicides, aerosol products, solvents, household cleaners, metal polishes, prescriptions, used motor oil, antifreeze, old gasoline, pool chemicals and drain cleaner.

Not allowed are fireworks, explosives, propane tanks, fire extinguishers, smoke detectors, business wastes, farm machinery oil and agricultural chemicals.

Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo said his village is happy to participate in this effort.

As members of the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County the five communities decided to join the promotional efforts. Each village board approved sponsorship of the effort.

Baxter officials indicated they are happy to let their site be used for this worthwhile joint-community effort.

Baxter is located at the intersection of Rte. 120 and Wilson Road.

ACHS board candidate concerned with children

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

An Antioch educator and concerned parent is running for the Antioch High School Board.

Sandy Jacobs is a substitute teacher who has two children, ages 13 and 10, in the Antioch public school system. She is a Parent Teacher Organization president at Antioch Upper Grade.

"I have been involved as a volunteer at W. C. Petty and active with the PTO at Upper Grade. I have been following my kids through the system and this is the next step," Jacobs said.

Jacobs became president quite by accident. I told them I would be president if no one else wants to do it."

Jacobs taught junior high in Wauconda for nine years. She quit teaching for 15 years to devote more time to her family. For the last two years she has been working as a substitute in a neighboring school district.

Jacobs said she doesn't want voters to think because she is an educator she will give the teachers anything they ask for.

"I'm concerned for my daughter that she gets a good education," Jacobs said. "There are some districts that spend $4,000 and $5,000 per kid while other districts which spend $3,400 per student do a better job educating kids."

Jacobs added she can tell when a teacher has a problem that needs to be dealt with or whether the presentation is flawed and information is slanted.

Jacobs has lived in Antioch for 20 years. She also would like to end any friction between the communities that send children to the high school. "The high school is the combination of the communities," she said.

Jacobs is running against Fred Fettinger III, Joe Kane, Ed Koziorowski, Kathy Werchek and Don Mertic in the Nov. 7 election. Four members will be selected from this field of candidates.

Pumpkin sale goes forward despite zoning concerns

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Knights of Columbus will be holding their annual Halloween pumpkin sale despite concerns regarding the zoning. The sale will be held at St. Peter Church on Sunday.

The Antioch Village Board approved the event Monday night, but discussed the zoning problem.

The village completed an ordinance last year dealing with the sale of agricultural goods such as Christmas trees and pumpkins. One of the limitations was that such sales be held in an area zoned commercial. St. Peter Church is not in a commercially zoned area.

"Technically, it is against the ordinance," Tim Wells told the board.

"Couldn't we look at this as an ancillary church function?" asked Trustee Marvin Oldenburger.

The mayor, trustees and Antioch Village Attorney Ken Clark agreed that was the best approach. "I agree," said Clark.

The board decided to approach the problem as they have, in the past, approached other charitable events at the church.

"We could always approve an amendment to the ordinance to exempt charitable organizations," suggested Clark.

But, whatever the board decides for the future, the Antioch Knights of Columbus will be selling pumpkins this year.

ACHS students to test fitness

How physically fit are kids in Antioch? Students at Antioch Community High School are about to find out, and learn what it takes to develop good fitness habits that will last the rest of their lives.

ACHS has signed up to participate in The Prudential Fitnessgram, a scientifically-based physical fitness conditioning, assessment and reporting system used in more than 3,000 schools across the United States. Developed and administered by the non-profit Cooper Institute for Aerobics Research in Dallas, Texas and sponsored by The Prudential, the program will supplement the school's existing physical education and sports curricula.

"The Prudential Fitnessgram differs from traditional programs in that it does not focus on competition or athletic prowess," explained Marilu Meredith, Ed.

D., director of The Prudential Fitnessgram at the Cooper Institute. "Rather, it provides an objective assessment of physical fitness and aims to instill good fitness habits and a positive attitude in all children, regardless of natural athletic ability."

The Prudential Fitnessgram was introduced to Antioch Community High School by Jim Hesenthaler at The Prudential serving the Antioch area. "As America's largest life and health insurer, we have a vital interest in helping people lead long and healthy lives," said Hesenthaler.

The Prudential Fitnessgram teaches youth the value of good fitness early on, encourages them to find fitness activities that they enjoy, rewards them for good behavior and shows them how to carry these lessons into adulthood."

ACHS will receive special computer software and a Prudential Fitnessgram Teaching Manual free of charge. After completing a multi-week conditioning program, participating students will be tested for aerobic capacity, muscle strength and flexibility, and body composition.

At the conclusion of testing, Prudential Fitnessgram software will tabulate the students' performances and print out personalized "Fitnessgram" report cards that compare individual results to established health fitness standards.

The Fitnessgram also provides general recommendations for improvement based on individual test results, a message to parents explaining the program, and instructions on how students and their families can participate in a national "Fit for Life" program to maintain their good fitness levels.

Police search for coin owners

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Police Department is still searching for the owners of an antique coin collection. If the owner does not come forward soon, the collection will be lost.

"We're going to wait another month," said Deputy Chief Charles Watkins. "We've had two calls so far."

According to Deputy Chief Charles Watkins, during the early part of August a young child between the ages of 10 and 11 years old went to a store in the village. The child asked the clerk to exchange coins for bills, which the clerk did.

Upon closer inspection of the coins, it appears the coins are part of a collection dating from the early 1900s to 1972. "Most of them are old coins," said Watkins.

The face value of the coins is $40, however it is likely the coins are much more valuable.

"What we are asking is for village residents to maybe check and make sure their coin collections are intact," said Watkins. "Otherwise, we are going to have to turn them over (to the store)."

Residents are encouraged to call the Antioch Police Department at 395-8585 if they find their collection or part of their collection missing. Callers will be required to specifically identify the coins.

"We'll wait a little while longer," Watkins warns.

Dog abuse trial continued by defendant

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

The fate of alleged dog abuser Charles M. Thornton, 26, of Grayslake, will not be decided Oct. 6 after his attorney's motion to continue the case was granted by Judge Barbara Gilleran Johnson. In the motion to continue, Thornton's attorney asked the judge to continue the case because a defense witness could not be available for the Oct.

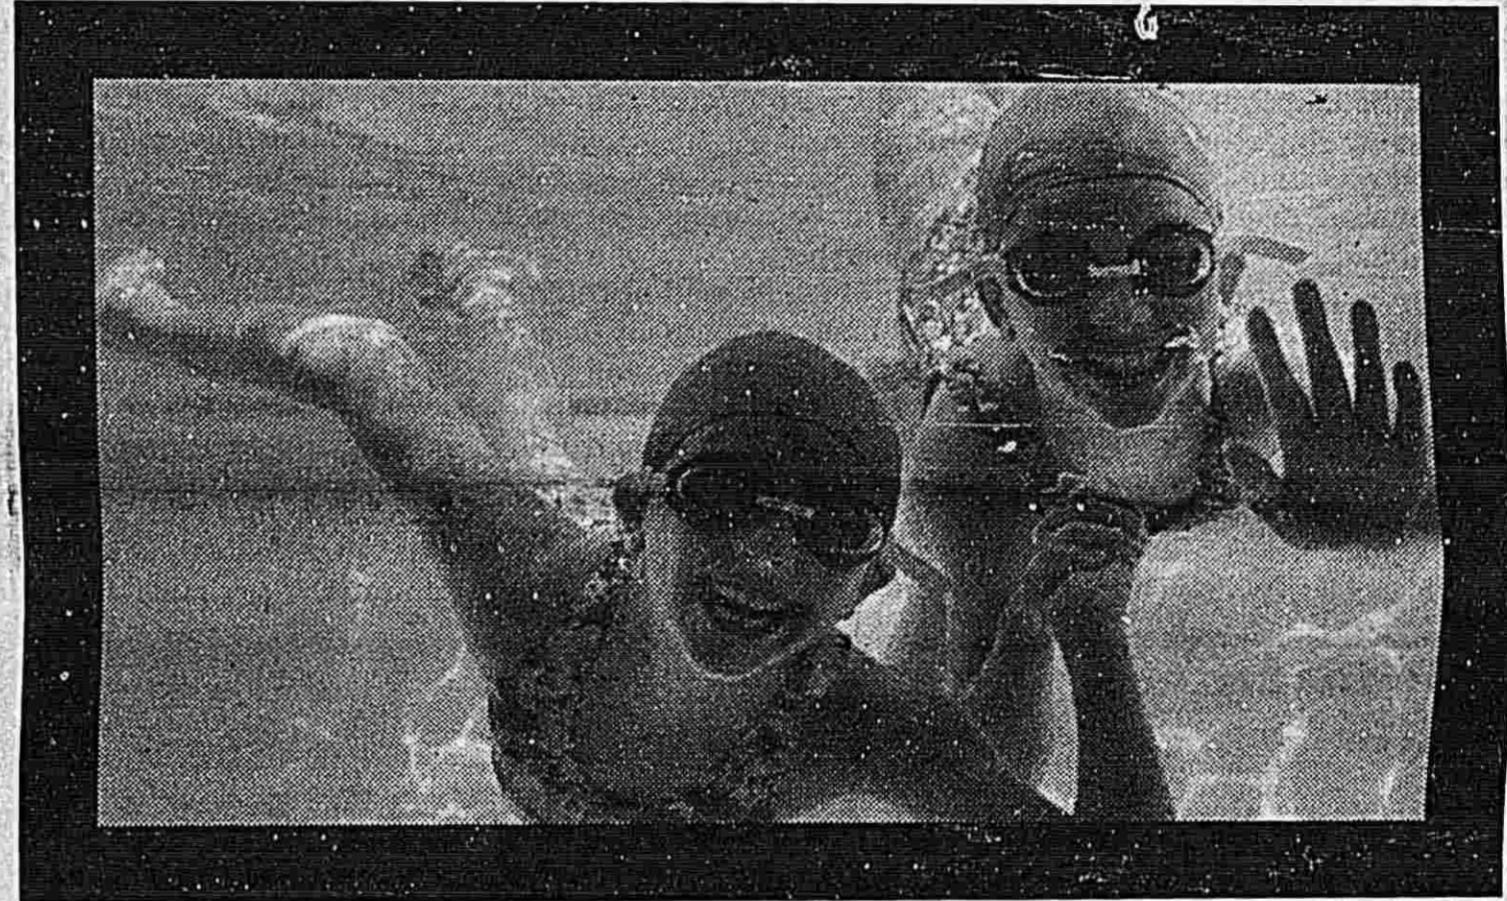

6 bench trial.

"That is not unusual due to the nature of the court system," prosecuting Lake County Assistant State's Attorney Greg Nikitas said of the continuance.

In May, Grayslake Police officer David Sprague entered Thornton's Country Faire apartment, when Thornton did not happen to be home, based on information provided by someone who had witnessed a dog living in squalid conditions in the apartment. Rusty, who has gained more than 30 pounds since being rescued, is still in the care of Lake County Animal Control in Mundelein.

Thornton's bench trial is now set for 9 a.m. Oct. 27 in Room C405 of the County Building. If convicted of the Class A misdemeanor, Thornton could face up to a year in prison and receive a $1,000 fine.

Tales of 'Sylvia from the City' strikes again

Several weeks ago I sent out a low-keyed request, hoping a story might filter its way down to my little ears—and it worked. People just love spilling the beans about their nearest and dearest friends. Seems "Sylvia from the City" has been up to some tricks again; remember she's the one that couldn't get her car out of "park."

Recently she volunteered to go on a shopping excursion to a local supermarket for a bed-ridden neighbor. She entered the supermarket, as we all have, fully intending to purchase only the few things on the incapacitated neighbor's list. Unfortunately it was "sale day" at the local supermarket, so Sylvia found herself stocking up on more items than she had originally intended, and wouldn't you know it she neglected to grab a shopping cart when she first walked in the door.

By the time her arms were laden with items, the shopping carts were all the way on the other side of this large supermarket and Sylvia, being perhaps a little lazy, not to mention burdened down with her selections, really did not feel like walking all the way back to where the carts sat. So she did what every single one of us has done at one time or another in our hour of need; she looked around and spied an unattended, empty cart sitting in the produce section. She gave a quick glance around, saw nobody looking, sprinted over and snatched that little puppy up. She then loaded the stolen vehicle with her soon-to-be purchases and zipped away as fast as her two thieving legs would allow.

Now about this same time, a poor little old lady (I think she even had a cane), came hobbling around the corner and with a bewildered look on her face exclaimed, "Who took my cart?"

Overhearing this, Sylvia felt a pang of regret but she still forged ahead with her litched vehicle, seemingly unnoticed, and perhaps a little giddy. That is until a little voice floated over the display case and smacked her like a bucket of cold water: "I saw you take that cart." Sylvia stopped dead in her tracks and faced a young, aspiring stock boy who had witnessed the whole charade—Sylvia had been caught red-handed.

She quickly regained her composure, grinned sheepishly and continued on her way, a little redder in the face and whole lot embarrassed. This is where poor, unsuspecting Mr. Sylvia met back up with his wife and questioned her, very loudly, about how she had suddenly acquired a cart. Folks, if you think Sylvia went ballistic on the repairman when the car was stuck in "park," you can imagine the tongue-lashing that gentle, unaware Mr. Sylvia got right there in the dairy section! The man still hasn't a clue as to what took place.

Now Sylvia, I figure you got off pretty darn easy. That stock boy could have soaked you for all you're worth to keep his mouth shut; I imagine not many up and coming stock boys would have been so gracious. Of course you had better hope that poor little old lady (the one with the cane) doesn't subpoena the surveillance tape the store's security camera had whirring while the whole escapade was taking place. I don't know what the statute of limitations is on cart stealing, but if I were you I would straighten up my act or one day you will walk in the post office

Book sale

Just a reminder, folks, that this is the weekend the Antioch Library Friends is holding their Annual Book Sale. The sale will be held at the library on Friday, Oct. 6 and Saturday, Oct. 7 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Now don't just think that books will be the only items for sale; they will also have computer software, video and audio cassettes and the ever-popular Entertainment Book '96.

So while you are out doing all your errands this weekend, stop over at the library and check out the merchandise. If our weather in September was any indication as to the weather we can expect in January, you will want to gather up as much reading material as possible to keep you busy during those cold winter days. So why not add to your own personal collection of books and at the same time help to support the community's collection of books. All profits will directly benefit our library. So forget about washing the car or mowing the lawn one last time and get over to the library this weekend.

Happy birthday time

This is a busy birthday month at the Pringle Homestead. I have three personal birthday wishes to extend. I have a specially "Happy Birthday" to my little nephew Alex, or Our Pal Al as he was cleverly nicknamed by his Uncle Doug. Our Pal will finally be 1 year old: Happy birthday, little guy. You took a long time and a lot of money to get here, and you can be assured that I remind your daddy daily on how much college will cost when your time comes.

Also, my favorite sister-in-law, Karen (I can say that because I only have one on my side of the family), is celebrating her birthday. I won't reveal her age, but let's just say her 20s are appearing farther and farther in the distance.

And last but certainly not least, happy birthday to my mother-in-law Marguerite, or Maggie as most of you townsfolk know her, who is dancing her up the wrinkle ladder.

So to all my kinfolk and to all you birthday boys and girls, moms and dads, aunts and uncles, grandmas and grandpas, sisters and brothers, Happy Happy: Don Bergl, Dorothy Bies, Jamie Brausam, Briia Dembinski, Larry Edelman Jr., Russ Fairchild, Marc Fechner, Dan Filips, Sara Groh, Ryan Hansen, Justin Kasprzak, Eddie Lindstrom, Ursula Martens, Charissa Misch, David Mozal, Debi Mozal, Joey Nava, Amanda O'Connor, Lois Petyskowski, Nicole Schaller, Meaghan Shannahan, Kirsten Smith, Paige Tybor, Christine Vos and Patti Vos.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle"...don't forget to call 395-6364.

FROM THE CAPITAL

US Cong. Phillip M. Crane (R)

Term limits ruling a disappointment

The ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court that term limits for members of Congress may be set only by amending the Constitution came as a bitter disappointment. It declared states could not impose congressional term limits. The 5-to-4 decision overturned laws in 23 states.

The Clinton Administration's Justice Department fought against term limits in the Supreme Court debate.

Earlier this year, when the issue was before the House of Representatives, I voted in favor of a constitutional amendment that would set the number of years one could serve in Congress. This was the first time in history that the House has had an opportunity to vote on congressional term limits.

I believe congressional service should be limited to three terms in the House (six years) and one term in the Senate (six years). However, I voted for other term limit restrictions. I feel some limit is better than none at all.

Eighty percent of the Republican House members voted for term limits, while 80 percent of the Democrats voted against them.

As a history professor, I agree with the dissenting opinion written by Justice Clarence Thomas. He wrote "the Constitution is simply silent on this question. And where the Constitution is silent, it raises no bar to action by the states or the people."

He also cited the 10th Amendment, which reserves to the states "or to the people" all powers neither delegated by the Constitution to the Federal Government nor prohibited to the states.

While dealing directly with the Arkansas case before the Supreme Court, Justice Thomas made this point. He wrote that while the majority of the justices contended the people of Arkansas have the right "to choose whom they please" to represent Arkansas in Congress, the majority invalidated a provision that won 60 percent of the votes cast in a direct election and that carried every congressional district in the state.

The House Republican leadership has promised that a vote on a term limit constitutional amendment is at the top of its agenda for the next Congress.

There is a renewed drive on to have Congress amend the Constitution on this issue. But with President Bill Clinton and the overwhelming number of Democrat members of Congress opposing term limits, it is going to be a difficult struggle.

State Bank of Lakes honors retiring employee

State Bank of the Lakes Vice President Wally Jaszkowski, and bank personnel honored retiring Katharina Schweininger with a surprise celebration on Sept. 29.

Behind the scene, Schweininger's co-workers conspired to honor her with a luncheon, cake and gifts.

Schweininger was born, raised and educated in Yugoslavia, where she earned her college degree.

She entered the United States in 1956 and married Hans Schweininger in 1957. They have a daughter, Katie, son-in-law, Richard Diaz and two grandsons, Ricky and Tony.

From 1967 to 1985 Schweininger worked at Chicago's Devon Bank and joined the State Bank staff on Jan. 12, 1987.

"Schweininger has an excellent record," said bank president and chairman of the board, Randy Miles, "and he will miss her."

Says Schweininger, "I am going home to take care of my grandsons."

Katharina Schweininger was honored by State Bank of the Lakes employees at a surprise party upon her retirement.

Navy Band to entertain AARP

The Lake Villa Township Chapter 3978 of the AARP met on Sept. 14 at the Lindenhurst Civic Center. There were 38 members present including three new members. Carol Stevenstein of Safe and Secure, Inc. gave a very interesting talk on "senior safety, safe and secure at home and away."

The meeting on Oct. 12 will be Pot luck luncheon at noon at the Lindenhurst Civic Center. Entertainment will be by the Great Lakes Naval Station Band. Guests from Victory Lakes continuing care have been invited for the program only, other guests are also invited for the program. New members are always welcome.

Vulcan withdraws annexation request

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

Vulcan Material Company withdrew its petition for annexation at the request of the Lake Villa village board.

The proposed limestone chip storage facility met strong opposition by residents. Last week the Plan Commission prepared a list of 17 conditions it recommended before allowing a conditional use permit. Mayor Frank Loffredo said he talked to trustees individually over the weekend and there wasn't sufficient support for the facility.

"With a 17-point conditional use, the consensus was it would be difficult for Vulcan to meet the requirements so we directed Vulcan to withdraw their petition for annexation to the village," Loffredo said.

Loffredo said many issues would have been difficult to ascertain until the facility was in place which the trustees considered risky.

"The board felt there were certain issues that couldn't be resolved," Loffredo said. "Some things we wouldn't have known until they built it."

Some of the many concerns of the Plan Commission included dust, traffic safety, amount of materials used, spillage from trucks and the hours of operation.

The company wished to construct a storage facility on 10 acres of a 30-acre parcel off Wall Street just east of Rte. 83. The company planned to send the material by rail from Wisconsin for distribution in Lake County locations.

After the decision was announced, resident Dave Hopson, a statistician, reported his findings of a telephone survey volunteers had collected. Of the 1,500 registered voters, 260 responded. Of the respondents who knew the issue and were aware of the request, 77 percent said they were opposed to it.

In addition, of those who were informed about proposed use and had an opinion, the number went up to 207 of the 260, or 80 percent against.

The decision does leave open the possibility for the company to seek zoning from Lake County. However, County Board Representative Suzi Schmidt said the county has the area zoned Countryside.

Loffredo said because of Lake Villa's proximity to the site, it is unlikely the company would seek the use from the county.

Loffredo credited the company with providing an honest presentation and not hiding anything from the village.

Lake Villa optimistic about field deal

ALEC JUNGE

Staff Reporter

The on again, off again saga of baseball fields in Lake Villa appears to be on again—for now.

Representatives of Lake Villa and the Lake County Forest Preserve Board met to iron out differences so a final agreement could be reached allowing baseball fields at the Sun Lake Forest Preserve.

"I think we have reached a workable agreement," said Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo. "However, it still has to be given to the people who weren't at the meeting and didn't have input."

Loffredo said the next step is to prepare a revised lease agreement for the Forest Preserve to review. He is optimistic the Forest Preserve will agree to changes discussed at the three-hour meeting.

"If they agree to the changes then we can present it to the Forest Preserve Board," Loffredo said.

The Forest Preserve had submitted an agreement to the village which the village asked to be revised. This meeting was called to work out differences between both parties.

"There was a lot of give and take on both sides. We hope they abide by the letter of the agreement. Any way we could help kids to play ball was a reoccurring theme of the meeting," Loffredo said.

Loffredo added reaching consensus on the intent of the document which ceded the Sun Lake Preserve to the Forest Preserve has been difficult.

The village agreed to allow the land donation to the Forest Preserve on the condition ball fields would be permitted on the site. The document was approved in 1992.

Since 1993, the Lake Villa Township Baseball League and the village has pursued getting a lease from the Forest Preserve for ball fields on a portion of the preserve which is currently a farm site.

The league has over 650 children. Most of the players are from Lake Villa Township but some are from Antioch and Grant Township as well. League officials were also on hand at the meeting.

The league wants to develop three playing fields over a period of five years on the site off Grass Lake Road west of Deep Lake Road. The fields would include dugouts, stands, and a public address system.

Loffredo expects to get a response from the Forest Preserve in a week or two.

Flu shot program available at Antioch VFW

The Kenosha Visiting Nurse Association and Visiting Nurse Community Care will be holding a flu shot program on Oct. 13 at the Antioch VFW from 3 to 7 p.m. Cost of the shots will be $8 and Medicare will be accepted.

The "flu", or influenza is an acute respiratory illness caused by different types of viruses. The flu starts quickly and is generally characterized by a high fever, dry cough, headache, and general body aches. During the normal course of the illness symptoms typically last a week to 10 days.

Flu shots must be taken annually because the immunity gained by the injections is short lived. In addition, because strains of flu virus and the vaccines change from year to year.

According to the Kenosha Visiting Nurse Association, the influenza vaccine cannot cause a bout of the flu. The organization has a question and answer sheet which states, "The influenza vaccine is made from highly purified, egg grown viruses that have been inactivated, therefore, the vaccine cannot cause influenza."

Because the flu can cause other illness such as pneumonia, those with already weakened respiratory or immunity systems, are urged to receive the flu vaccine.

For more information about the flu or about the vaccine program, call (414) 656-7380.

The paper is primarily operated by the eighth grade journalism class, although the entire school is involved. The concept behind the paper was to encourage students to do more writing.

"It provides a greater opportunity for our students to write," said Kerr-Carpenter.

The paper has no advertising. Kerr-Carpenter said having students out selling space and collecting money was "more of a high school project." Although, she joked, the school would certainly consider the inclusion of an ad "if someone wanted to put one in."

Yorkhouse questions unanswered

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor in Chief

The Yorkhouse Road extension—is it a road to nowhere or a road to economic development and the revitalization of northeastern Lake County?

Nine months after the Lake County Board approved pursuing the right-of-ways to construct an extension of Yorkhouse Road over the Des Plaines River Wetlands Demonstration Project to Rte. 41, many residents continue to believe critical questions remain unanswered.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-31st) hosted a public forum on the proposed extension Monday at Zion City Hall. Among her panel were: Dusty Powell, Lake County Division of Transportation; County board members Jim LaBelle (Dist. 4), Bob Neal (Dist. 2), Suzi Schmidt (Dist. 3) Jim Stanczak (Dist. 8) and Carol Calabresa (Dist. 15); Wadsworth Mayor Donald Craft and city aldermen from Zion and Waukegan.

There were 188 people who crowded into the public forum. Only one person publicly declared he was in support of the Yorkhouse extension; he happens to live in the path of the Sunset Ave. alternative. The most common question on the minds of those who spoke out was "Who is to benefit from the proposed extension?"

The City of Waukegan and the Village of Beach Park have passed resolutions in support of the extension citing the proposed economic benefits to the area. The Waukegan Port Authority, which manages the Waukegan Regional Airport, is seeking to extend the runway and believes the additional east-west arterial to Rte. 41 would be a boom to increased use by its corporate customers.

Neal of Wadsworth, who has taken considerable public heat on his position, believes corporate America is the most likely beneficiary of an extended roadway. But he also maintains the time to build the roadway may be several years into the future.

"I'm not in favor of the extension of Yorkhouse Road today," said Neal. "I am, however, in favor of preserving the right-of-ways which would enable the county to build the road in the future, if the road was needed. I believe someday the road will be needed."

Echoing his sentiments was LaBelle, who is also president of the Lake County Forest Preserve. Opponents of the road gave LaBelle a green and white "No to Yorkhouse Road" button upon his public declaration.

"I am not in favor of building the road, today," LaBelle said. "And, I made sure the county could spend no money toward the construction of the road without coming back to the county board for approval, first."

Neal believes that even if approved permits from the state for roadway construction were sent to the county board, there would not be a majority in favor of beginning construction on the extension.

"We have so many needs for road construction which are greater than Yorkhouse Road at the present time," Neal said. "The board is simply trying to preserve the right-of-ways for future use, if ever deemed necessary."

Many county residents are baffled as to why the county board chose to expend funds to perform an engineering and environmental impact study of the extension path if the board was not determined to build the road in the near future.

Neal and LaBelle both insist the decision was made so the extension could be planned for in the future. Powell agreed.

"We are attempting to plan for the future by securing the right-of-ways for this road," Powell said. "There are places in this county where we are accused of not planning for the future and we are paying the price for the lack of planning now."

Geo-Karis has not made a public statement in favor or in opposition to the roadway. She told constituents present that she would forward the findings of her meeting to proper authorities.

Central Baptist ready for day care site

ALEC JUNGE

It was a warm day in the fall which made for an appropriate backdrop for the ground breaking of the new child care center at Central Baptist Children's Home.

The Lake Villa non-profit facility dedicated to the welfare of children will have a state-of-the-art day care facility for community toddlers to attend.

"I think it is just beautiful and it is all in my district," said State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis on the new facility plans.

Geo-Karis was one of about 50 residents who were on hand to witness the ground breaking. Also there were Lake Villa Mayor Frank Loffredo and Lake Villa Township Supervisor Sue Hanson.

"We are all excited about your project," Loffredo said. "We see nothing but positives with your school."

Loffredo added day care was one of the top five requested services next to a railroad station. Both the day care facility and the train station are expected to be in operation by next summer.

"There is a need for quality day care and infant care. It will be a real benefit to the community," Loffredo said.

The home will refurbish an existing building on the site and double it in size. The building will house 100 children ranging from infants to a full-day Kindergarten.

"We are at a crossroads of time and place. For 50 years we have been at this location for the care of children. Now the time is right and we are addressing a great need," said Board Member Clark Robinson.

Assisting in the ground breaking were children from the Busy Bee Child Care Center in Waukegan to dig the first bit of dirt.

Improving girls golfers make a pitch at regionalKEVIN HANRAHAN

Antioch's girls golf may not have advanced to the sectional tournament, but the Lady Linksters certainly have made strides and made their presence known at the regional.

Antioch just missed the top four cut off in the 22-team regional at Bonnie Brook Golf Course in Waukegan. Perennially tough Lake Forest and Libertyville finished first and second, while Rockford-Guilford and Carmel gained the third and fourth spots to qualify for the sectional.

Antioch finished a respectable fifth with a 399 score.

"Considering the competition, we did well, but we wished we could have done a little bit better," said Antioch Coach Steve Wapon.

Sarah Murphy carded a 94 to lead the Antioch contingent. Angie Pederson stroked a 100, while Sarah Rockow golfered a 101. Lisa Murphy, Kelly Periman and Jessica Shore scored 104, 105, 106 respectively. Sarah

'Girls golf has gained a lot more respect in recent years, and the competition keeps getting tougher.'

Antioch Coach Steve Wapon

Murphy's 94 was good enough to advance to the sectional as an individual.

"We have never broke 400 in the state tournament," Wapon noted. "Our scores keep coming down. The girls just get better and better every year."

As Antioch's girls golf program improves, so have other schools. Five years ago, scores ranging 95-100 would have been enough to qualify for sectional. Now, individuals are consistently shooting in the 80s.

"Girls golf has gained a lot more respect in recent years, and the competition keeps getting tougher," Wapon said. "There are more girls and women on golf courses. It's not just dominated by men."

And Antioch has kept pace with the improving trend in girls golf at the prep level. Antioch competes in the Inter Suburban Conference, which is hailed as one of the toughest girls golf conferences in the state.

Antioch girls runners top Libertyville, StevensonKEVIN HANRAHAN

"Whew!"

After checking and double checking, it was official. The Antioch girls cross country team knocked off both Libertyville and Stevenson 27-28 in a double dual race. All three teams

'This is a good shot in the arm for our younger kids.'

Dick Harland
Antioch coach

entered the contest undefeated in North Suburban Conference duals.

"I thought it was going to be a close race or someone would get wiped out, but 27-28 both ways is as close as you can get," said an elated Dick Harland, Antioch coach.

Libertyville's Katie Leffelman recorded the course record at Adler Park in Libertyville with a time of 12:31. Antioch's Megan Durney ran in second with a time of 12:51. Katie Russell of Libertyville was third with a 13:18.

Antioch handed Libertyville its first conference dual defeat since 1987.

"We beat them by one point last year at their home course. They came back to our course and returned the favor this year," remarked Libertyville Coach Harry Carlson.

Helping Antioch's cause were Liana Rothermel in sixth, Christina Barbic in ninth, Esther Scheurer in tenth and Beth Lennon in 12th. Colleen McCandless and Lauren Steinburg were 18th and 19th, while Shayne Jacobsen and Megan Mitchell were 25th and 26th.

"It was our pack in the middle. They're the ones who settled the race," said Harland, referring to Barbic, Scheurer and Lennon. Barbic is a sophomore and Scheurer is a freshman.

"This is a good shot in the arm for our younger kids," Harland said.

Before the upcoming conference meet Oct. 14, Antioch runs against top-rated Benet Saturday.

"Anytime you run against stiff competition. It's good for the girls," Harland said of the Benet meet.

At Antioch's own 22nd annual Invitational last weekend in Silver Lake, Wis., Durney finished fourth behind three state qualifiers. Overall, Antioch finished fifth in the 14-team Invitational. Other top runners included Lennon in 25th place and Rothermel 27th.

The Lady Sequoits will be taking their 7-0 conference record back to Adler Park Oct. 14 for the conference meet.

In the meantime, beating Libertyville and Stevenson "gives our girls a big lift going into the conference meet, but it also gives the other teams reason to fight back," Harland said.

The Libertyville coach said it will be another close race between the three schools.

"I think it will be an even race again," Carlson said. "The team that wants it the most is going to come away with it."

DeRue leads Antioch as boys runners look to conferenceKEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Going into the conference dual meet against Libertyville and Stevenson, the Antioch boys cross country team knew it was going to be tough.

Antioch fell to Libertyville 15-48 and Stevenson 18-43.

"We knew we didn't have the class of runners as a Libertyville or a Stevenson, but we just wanted to get some good times leading into the conference meet," explained Antioch Coach Dave Judson.

Libertyville dominated as Andrew

Wilgress breezed by the competition with a first-place time of 16:13. The Wildcats also had the third, fourth and fifth place runners.

Leading the Sequoits was Brian DeRue, who finished eighth with a 17:20.

"Brian DeRue has been our first place runner all year," Judson noted.

Kevin Fasana was 17th with an 18:34. Ryan Rothermel followed in 25th, while Ryan Dunn and Mike Keefe were 26th and 27th.

"I was impressed with Brian's time and Kevin's time," Judson said.

The two losses puts Antioch at 3-4 going into the conference meet Oct. 14. Judson said he is hopeful the injured Kenneth Bratton will return in time for the conference meet.

"He's been our second or third runner," Judson said. "I'm looking for a couple of seniors to come out and run a good race at conference. If Kenneth comes back healthy, I think we can finish fourth."

At the Antioch Invitational last weekend, the boys team finished 10th in a field of 14 teams. Benet Academy and Waukegan were the top teams.

DeRue led Antioch with a 16th place finish, and Fasana was second for Antioch in 42nd place.

Vike lightweights stop Warren, take over 1st

The Antioch Viking lightweight team took over sole possession of first place in the Junior Football League of Northern Illinois with a 13-6 win over the Warren Packers.

The win improved the Viking conference record to 4-0, while Warren fell a game back at 3-1.

Following three runs by Viking backs Brad Groth, Adam Niles and Eldon Rivelli, wide receiver Mike Smith scored on a 31-yard reverse and Groth converted the extra point as Antioch took an early 7-0 lead.

Warren answered with a touchdown of its own in the second quarter, but the Packers attempt at the extra point was stopped by Antioch corner back Craig Eibl's tackle at the 1 yard-line. Antioch took a 7-6 lead into the lockerroom at half time.

"My defensive coaches came up with a couple of adjustments at halftime which limited Warren to three second half first downs," noted Antioch Coach Rick Motley. "We really had the upper hand in the second half."

The Viking offensive line—led by guards Chris Kocinski and Jarrod Lewis and tightend Jeff Johansen—responded with some excellent blocking in the third and fourth quarters.

With 2:35 remaining in the fourth quarter, Groth scored from 5 yards out.

Offensively, Antioch totaled 267 yards. Quarterback Mark Purnell connected on 2 of 5 passes for 62 yards.

Niles gained 94 yards rushing on 13 carries. Groth rushed for 43 yards on five carries, and Rivelli added 41 yards on eight carries.

The Viking defensive unit was led by Rivelli's seven solo tackles. Rob Lodesky had six solos from his defensive end position, and corner back Eibl had 4 solos and a key pass knocked down.

In the trenches, Chris Rogalla, tackles Dane Anderson and Jeff Norwick, and nose tackle Pat Swanson held Warren in check primarily in the second half. Anderson and Kocinski each had fumble recoveries.

Coach Motley also praised the hard hitting of linebackers Jarrod Ponce and Niles for causing two fumbles.

Lake Villa Featherweights gain close gridiron victory

Lake Villa's first-year Timberwolves took the field again this Sunday against Cary Grove. Details of the series are as follows:

Cary 12, Pee Wees 0

Lake Villa's pee wee team lost to Cary 0-12, in spite of Dan Rathen's 35 yard sweep and a 55 yard run by Ryne Johnsen as the last play of the game. Pee Wee Timberwolves are 2-3 for the season.

Featherweights 6, Cary 0

The featherweight teams ran a close game with the Timberwolves emerging victorious 6-0 against Cary, due in part to a 53 yard run by Mike Mercado.

Matt Labus performed a key interception at the end of the game, preventing Cary from scoring and sealing a Wolverine victory. Featherweight Timberwolves are 3-2 for the season.

Cary 36, Lightweights 2

Lake Villa's lightweights lost against Cary 36-2, in spite of interceptions by both Pat Hilbert and Mike Otten.

Ryan Kruse put the Timberwolves on the board with a safety in the third quarter. The Lightweight Timberwolves are 0-5 for the season.

Cary 28, Varsity Heavyweights 13

Lake Villa's varsity team lost to Cary 26-13. The exciting second half brought two touchdowns for the Timberwolves with Mike Kral running 56 yards to score, and Josh Rasmussen scoring from 43 yards out. Rasmussen also earned the extra point.

Defense played strong as well, with Josh Pate intercepting and running for 35 yards. Josh Rasmussen recovering a fumble, and with a quarterback sack by Dan Schneider.

The Varsity Timberwolves are 0-5 for the season.

The Lake Villa Timberwolves will be facing two different teams Sunday, with the pee wees and featherweights traveling to Oak Park, and the lightweights and varsity teams hosting Libertyville at Lake Villa Township Park, beginning at 10 a.m.

Power wins; Blitz remain undefeated

Power

For the second time in two weeks, the Lindenhurst Power took on Lake Forest JPS and scored a 2-1 come-from-behind late game victory.

After ending the first half scoreless, Lake Forest JPS scored just three minutes into the second half when their wing was able to run past the Lindenhurst defense converting on a well-placed through pass.

Teri LaRoche scored on a breakaway off a pass from Sarah Richardson, after fighting off a charge from the JPS keeper. LaRoche then scored the game winner in the thirty-ninth minute, this time off a pass from Jamie Wismer, when she was able to push the ball under the Lake Forest keeper who had charged her in an attempt to stop the breakaway.

The Lindenhurst defense of Lauren Beatty, Nicci Estep, Kristen Hungarland, Jourdan Phillips, Cara Robinson and Esther Scheurer shut down the Lake Forest attack by not allowing a shot on goal in the last 20 minutes of the game.

Rockers

The Rockers won for the third straight time, defeating the visiting Rowdies from Rolling Meadows 4-0.

The Rockers set the tempo by outshooting the visitors 17-1 in the first half but only led 1-0 on a goal from Lauren Cole assisted by Kelly O'Connell.

The Rockers found the back of the net in the second half scoring three unanswered goals. Scoring for the Rockers were O'Connell, Erin Peacy and Kristina Gopp with assists going to Annie Heath and Peacy.

Tanya Earl and Robyn Mortenson were outstanding in the sweeper position, tracking down and eliminating the opposition's scoring chances.

Rockets

The Lindenhurst Rockets improved their record to 3-0-1 after launching a scoring barrage against the Northbrook Spartans. The Rockets won 9-0.

Constant offensive pressure and solid defense denied Northbrook of any scoring opportunities. The Rockets were able to put 32 shots on goal during the game.

Lissa Coby connected with Annie Hovey twice during the game for two of the goals. Callie Check connected with Pam Staton twice on corner kicks for two more goals, and Check scored twice after direct kicks were awarded to the Rockets.

Other players scoring were Coby assisted by Staton and Courtney Ksiosz, Megan Placko assisted by Kacie Anderson and Kristen Gagne assisted by Ksiosz. Other Rocket players turning in outstanding performances were Becky McBrady, Michelle Marturano, Calla Myslinski, Lori Knupp and Elizabeth Martin.

Blitz

Undefeated remained in the Lindenhurst Blitz (4-0) by beating Park Ridge White at Polley Field 3-1.

Lindenhurst took a 1-0 lead when Carrie Gofron converted a penalty kick early in the first half. The Blitz increased their lead when Sondra Lorang fired home a score off a beautifully placed cross pass from Susan Woodruff.

Park Ridge scored to make it 2-1 on a defensive miscue. The action was even until late in the game when Allison Earl sent in a long shot that bounced off the post and in. Nicki Kral got the assist.

The Blitz allowed Park Ridge only eight shots on goal. Defensive players Elly Elfering and Erin Nowak each picked off an open net scoring opportunity.

Other Blitz standouts on the day were Becca Bleyer, Jill Denoma and Amie Carlberg.

Royal Eagles

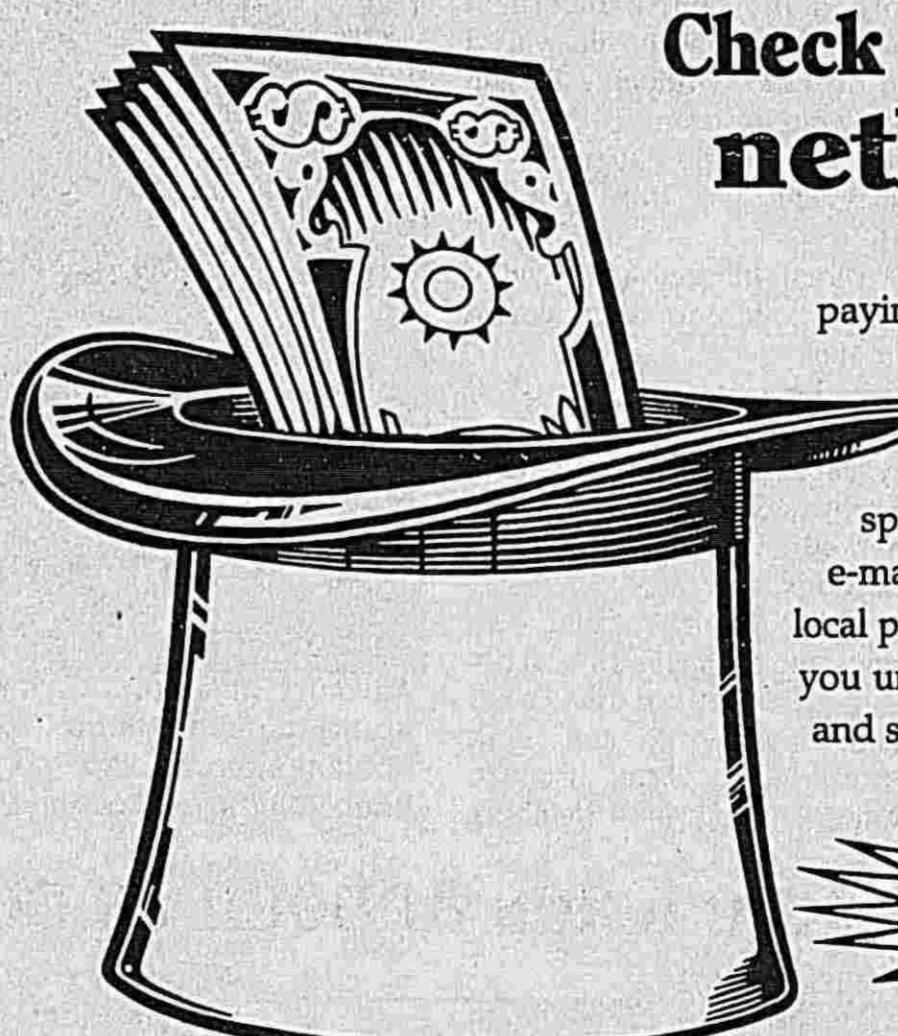

The Lindenhurst U-12 boys went on the road to St. Charles and soundly defeated the TCSA Attack 3-1.

The first half was a defensive battle for both clubs. Adam Jordan had to stop four shots on goal. With eight minutes gone in the second half, Kaleb Barrett intercepted a pass, split the defense and hammered in the first score.

Within seven minutes, Ryan Jordan smoked one past the goalie, assisted by a Tommy Woodruff pass. With five minutes left in the game, Adam Placko scored on a direct kick. Erik Carlberg had four saves in goal.

Antioch won seven meets in a season. The Sequoits finished their conference season 7-10.

At the regional, Antioch finished ahead of Waukegan, which has consistently been a tough area team. Beating Regina-Dominican earlier this season was another sign that Antioch's girls golf is on the rise.

"We've done nothing but lower our scores,"

Antioch boys golfers finish fourth in NSC

Josh Van Heirseele fired a 76 to gain second place in the North Suburban Conference golf meet, leading area golfers.

The Warren High senior fired even 38s on both nines as he led the Blue Devils to fourth place.

Warren had 325 points in the meet at Foss Park in North Chicago.

Lake Forest won the meet with 318 strokes. Stevenson had 322 strokes for second-place, while Libertyville edged Warren by one point and Warren edged Antioch by one. Mundelein and Zion-Benton tied for sixth place.

Warren edged Antioch for fourth place in the overall standings.

Warren Coach Alex Richardson was pleased with Van Heirseele's score.

"He has been steady and is peaking at the right time. He is putting very well," Richardson said.

Warren was helped by Jon Savage's 78, Ben VanHeirseele's 84 and Dan Lozano's 87.

The top 15 medalist were: Glen Koepke of Lake Forest with a 75; 78s were carded by Mike Nielsen of Antioch, Savage and Kurt Coroneos of Libertyville;

Rob Marini of Stevenson had a 79 for sixth place; 80's were shared by Shawn Hansen of Antioch, Brigham Hamlin of Stevenson and Ryan Hickman of Libertyville.

Gregg Osborn of Stevenson was one of three 81's. Teammate Nick Oldfield had an 82.

Warren joins many area teams at the Glenbrook North regional Oct. 3.

"It is an extremely competitive regional. A 325 score may be seventh or eighth and only the top four go to state," Richardson said.

Grayslake gains share of first place

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

After an 0-4 start, the Grayslake Rams have quickly found themselves in a first-place tie in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

What is more, Coach Dan Dillon believes the entire Grayslake football program is beginning to sparkle after a weekend Homecoming sweep over Wauconda.

"The whole program is starting to come together. I just like the feeling of our program," said Dillon, whose varsity team defeated Wauconda 16-7.

Whether it was the gusting wind blowing their way or the ball bouncing their way, the Rams benefitted from four Wauconda turnovers. In addition, the defense held its ground, including stopping Wauconda from cutting the lead to within 2 points early in the fourth quarter.

The Bulldogs were on the verge of completing an 80-yard drive when the Grayslake "D" stopped Wauconda on four possessions inside the 5 yardline. Mike Miller and Shane Shanstra were key in tripping up Wauconda's Mike Seitz behind the line of scrimmage on the final two carries at the 2 yardline.

"It was a do or die play," Dillon said. "That's the way I thought our defense would be all year."

Take away an 81-yard kickoff return by Wauconda's JJ Huebner in the second quarter, and the Grayslake defense holds Wauconda scoreless.

But in Dillon's eyes, "Our defense shut them out."

After the key defensive stand at the goaline, the Grayslake offense could not produce. But Brian Witt unleashed a 67-yard punt from his own endzone.

"Brian Witt is our weapon," Dillon said. "I keep telling people, he's a Division I punter."

He is also an accurate field goal kicker as Witt nailed a 26-yard field goal with 12 seconds left in the first half to go up 16-7 at the break and to seal the victory.

Jason Olson (50 yards rushing) set up Grayslake's first score by picking up a fumble and running to the 1 yardline. Quarterback Mike Mainord scored on a second effort for the 6-0 lead.

Running back Justin Wood set up the second score by catching a 23-yard pass before scampering 27 yards for the 13-0 advantage.

"(Lineman) Mike Karaszewski came down on the nose tackle and then I made a move on the linebacker," said Wood, who led Grayslake rushers with 53 yards.

"We had to run a running game that wouldn't fumble the ball and that would control the game," Dillon said.

The defense took control in the second half. Luke Kron and Jason Lindh teamed up for a sack. Brian Kiple recovered a punt fumble, and Matt Peschke had a key interception.

After the pivotal goaline stance, the Grayslake defense ended Wauconda's hopes by stopping a fourth and 8. Jeff Horvath hit Wauconda quarterback Jeff Gertz as he was throwing the ball to misdirect the incomplete pass.

"It was a total team effort," Dillon said.

The Rams travel to Johnsburg to confront the up-and-coming Skyhawks Friday night for another NWSC matchup.

Rams shutout Panthers

Grayslake High's tennis team continued its momentum before the Northwest Suburban Conference meet with a shutout of Round Lake.

The Rams finished a perfect 10-0 in NWSC battles as Grayslake won 5-0.

"We played very well and our doubles teams are solidifying themselves," Rams Coach Chuck Olson said.

The Rams bring 10 points into this week's conference meet. The closest competitor has 7 points - Johnsburg. Grant and Johnsburg are hosts Wednesday and Thursday with Thursday's finals starting at 2 p.m. at Grant High.

The first Rams doubles team of Rachel Losinski and Heather Lawrence downed Round Lake's Kristen Schuster and Jaimie D'Andrea 7-5, 6-0. Jennifer Kisela and Emily Kirby beat Jodi Rathunde and Larissa Kassner 6-0, 6-1 at second doubles.

In singles, Sarah Losinski shutout Grace Alaimo 6-0, 6-0. Paige Reardon won over Erin Saban at second singles 6-1, 6-2.

Melissa Marthouse rounded off the sweep at home as she downed Lyndsey Kay 6-0, 6-0.

The Rams had downed Wauconda 4-1 earlier in the week and lead Johnsburg 3-1.

Non-conference foes Warren on Oct. 11 and Antioch remain, matches in which many Grayslake players will gain experience.

Grant offense finds stride

Without a point in eight quarters, Grant High's football team decided to throw almost everything at the Marian Central defense.

The strategy took awhile to get used to but once the Bulldogs did, they beat Marian Central 14-13 in the second half. Unfortunately, the Northwest Suburban Conference leading Hurricanes had a 35-6 lead at the time and coasted to a 48-20 win.

"We decided to open it up on offense and we were winging it. We have predominantly a junior team and we were comfortable with the offense in the second half," Grant Coach Mark Barczak said.

Grant had some heroes of its own which those who left at halftime did not see. The Bulldogs (1-4 overall, 0-2 NWSC) were led by 118 yards and a touchdown from Tony Coniglio and a 44-yards in four catches by Mike Nelson.

Grant travels to Wauconda in the annual battle of the Bulldogs at 1 p.m. Oct. 7. It is Wauconda's Homecoming and the host Bulldogs face a must-win situation to keep fading play-off hopes alive.

Grant's Nelson caught a 15-yard TD pass from Paddock for a score which pulled the Bulldogs to within one at 7-6.

Marian Central, though, scored the next four touchdowns.

YMCA Air Fest flies overhead this weekend

The Lake Family YMCA is hosting 5th annual AirFest Sunday Oct. 8 at the Waukegan Regional Airport.

The day-long family events begin with a pancake breakfast hosted by YMCA Camp Jorn at 7 a.m. The gates open at 8 a.m. with static display of aircraft, military airplanes, home built planes, corporate jets and military band. The air show features two performances at noon and 3 p.m.

"This year the show will be bigger and better than ever," said Phil Baaske, president of the Lake County Family YMCA. "Each year we expanded the events for the family. This is truly a family event."

Baaske says the demonstration of an F-18 is among the air-fest highlights as are the 20 military airplanes.

"We are expecting a crowd of more than 10,000 to attend this year," said Baaske.

Air Fest is the result of the efforts of a large group of volunteers. The idea originated with Tom Doddington who felt it would be a great fund raiser for the YMCA. All proceeds from the event are used to benefit the YMCA scholarship fund and positive peer group programs.

Price for admission is $20 per family, $7 for adult, $5 for children 3-12 and free for children under 3.

Parking is available at the entrances to the airport off Lewis Ave. and McAre Road.

For more information on the YMCA AirFest call 360-9622.

Remembering the Great Chicago Fire Red Cross offers fire prevention tips

The 114 year anniversary of the Great Chicago Fire, a spectacular blaze that began in a barn and consumed 17,000 structures in only 27 hours, killing 300 people and leaving 100,000 homeless will be observed Oct. 8 through 14.

National Fire Prevention Week is a solemn commemoration of this fire, observed nationwide by disaster prevention and fire safety advocates including the American Red Cross and the National Fire Protection Association.

"Last year alone, the Red Cross responded to an unprecedented series of disaster, providing shelter, food and new clothing to a half million Americans at a cost of over $200 million," Red Cross President Elizabeth Dole said. "The overwhelming majority of these incidents—63,000 of them—were residential fires that robbed people of their most basic household necessities."

The Mid America Chapter responded to over 1,980 incidents last year in Chicago and the surrounding suburbs. Most of these fires were preventable. According to NFPA, the leading cause of home fires is cooking equipment—most often it is the stove left unattended.

There are some simple precautions that everyone can take to reduce the risk that a fire will start in their home.

- Practice safe cooking: Stay near the stove and keep flammables, such as loose sleeves, oven mitts and paper towels away from burners.

- Know how to slide a lid over a pan fire to extinguish it.

- Watch what you heat—remember space heaters can tip and quickly burn carpet. Don't use space heaters to dry mittens, and keep newspapers far away from heaters and fireplaces.

While the leading causes of home fires are cooking and heating mishaps, the deadliest fires begin as a lighted cigarette. Lighted tobacco products left smoldering in shallow ashtrays, or that ignite the couch or bed sheets kill more people than any other kind of fire.

Sometimes, however, fires just can't be prevented. Making sure your home has working smoke detectors, fire extinguishers and a family plan for escape can save the lives of the ones you love. The American Red Cross offers brochures on fire safety and how to create a family disaster plan. For free copies, call (312)440-2000.

Before you start digging, call JULIE

If fall chores include digging around your home, Commonwealth Edison recommends that you call JULIE or DIGGER before taking your first shovelfull. Your safety and uninterrupted utility service may depend on it.

Electric, telephone and TV cables and gas, water, and sewer lines all could be cut or damaged by digging in the wrong place. That's why you should call to have your utility services located before you start your project.

The service is free. Participating utilities and municipalities will mark the locations of your services within 48 hours.

JULIE (Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators) is the Illinois one call notification system for underground facilities. By calling JULIE toll free at 1-800-892-0123 at least 48 hours before you dig, you can avoid damaging vital underground services. When damaged, these underground facilities can endanger property and public safety—they can also be expensive and time consuming to repair.

And calling JULIE is simple. Just dial the toll free number and give the necessary information to the answering operator: county/city or county/township; section number if available; name and phone number; location extent of the excavation; description of the excavation; and the date work will begin.

JULIE will advise you of the member companies having underground facilities in the area where you plan to excavate and will then forward this location request to them.

JULIE is a non profit organization that has been in existence since 1974—statewide since 1980. JULIE covers the entire state of Illinois with the exception of Chicago, which is covered by DIGGER (312)744-7000.

Salvi hits campaign trail, armed with voting record

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE

Editor In Chief

When David set off to slay Goliath, he was armed with his faith in God as his weapon. State Rep. Al Salvi (R-52nd), clearly an underdog in his bid for the U.S. Senate, is armed with a well-seasoned campaign manager, a supportive family and a lot of faith.

Salvi made his official announcement in dual press conferences in Chicago and Libertyville at the County Republican Headquarters. His wife, Kathy Salvi, was at his side and his mother, Maria Salvi, was a silent but beaming member of the small audience gathered in Libertyville. Also present was Campaign Manager Jim Thacker, who orchestrated the successful campaign of Republican Don Manzullo of Rockford. Manzullo of Rockford defeated a 20-year incumbent.

Salvi's prepared remarks echoed a familiar sentiment for the conservative Republican—family and fiscal responsibility and a often repeated phrase, "No, I can't do that—I'm a Republican."

"The time is now to end the programs that waste our money. The See SALVI page B3

Most believe justice not served in OJ case

Compiled from staff reports

The reading of the verdict in the O.J. Simpson trial may be a defining moment in the lives of a generation. Most people will likely remember where they were when they heard the news. O.J. Simpson was acquitted on charges he murdered his former wife, Nicole Brown Simpson, and Ron Goldman.

Residents and workers in Lake County hurried to local eateries and pubs to gather around the television set, a medium which was the focal point in the "Trial of the Century," to hear the verdict read at 12:08 p.m. Tuesday.

Reaction was mixed with a large majority of county residents polled saying they personally believed Simpson was guilty but were not surprised the jury found him innocent.

Goldman was an alumni of Stevenson High School in Lincolnshire. Stevenson High School officials reported all was quiet at the school.

Antioch

Peggy Jocewicz, who watched the verdict read from the Las Vegas Restaurant in Antioch seemed disappointed by the jury's verdict. "I think it was wrong. I think it was totally wrong," said Jocewicz. "They should have given him second degree." Jocewicz felt the DNA evidence was overwhelming.

At the neighboring restaurant, the Lakeside, Penny Soulak heard the verdict on the radio.

"I kind of figured the verdict," said Soulak. "I think the state messed up on the evidence.

Most laymen, like myself, do not understand DNA evidence."

Fox Lake

"It was unbelievable," said Hello Folks owner Bob Boles of Fox Lake. "It's a stunned group,"

Jeanine Olsen, Lake Villa, and her father, Vic, watch as the verdict in the O.J. Simpson trial is read on CNN during their lunch hour. "I was very surprised by the not guilty verdict," said Jeanine Olsen.—

said Boles about his customers. "Only one person here was pleased with the verdict," he added.

About five minutes after the announcement on national television and radio, half of the Hello Folks customers walked out in disgust, said Boles.

Doc Greenwald of Ingleside watched the verdict from the bar in Dino's Den restaurant.

"I'm confident the verdict was a correct one," said Greenwald.

"I think it's impossible to charge him (Simpson) with what he was charged for," said Kathleen Pugh about the double slayings.

"No one deserves to be chopped up like hamburger, but her (Nicole Brown-Simpson) actions as a young woman were uncalled for," said Greenwald. He believes she was promiscuous. Then he agreed that doesn't justify murder.

Grayslake

More than 50 people were eating lunch at the Last Chance Saloon in Grayslake. All took seats facing the televisions. There were audible groans when the verdict was read.

"It is over. There's nothing to talk about," said Richard Gray of Mundelein.

"I thought the trial went on so damn long there was enough time to create some reasonable doubt," said Joe Cruz, who works in Grayslake. "If you have enough money, resources and crafty enough lawyers, you can get away with anything. Mobsters proved that. I'm glad it's over." See O.J. page B2

Gay woman searches for God in heterosexual world

First in a two-part series

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

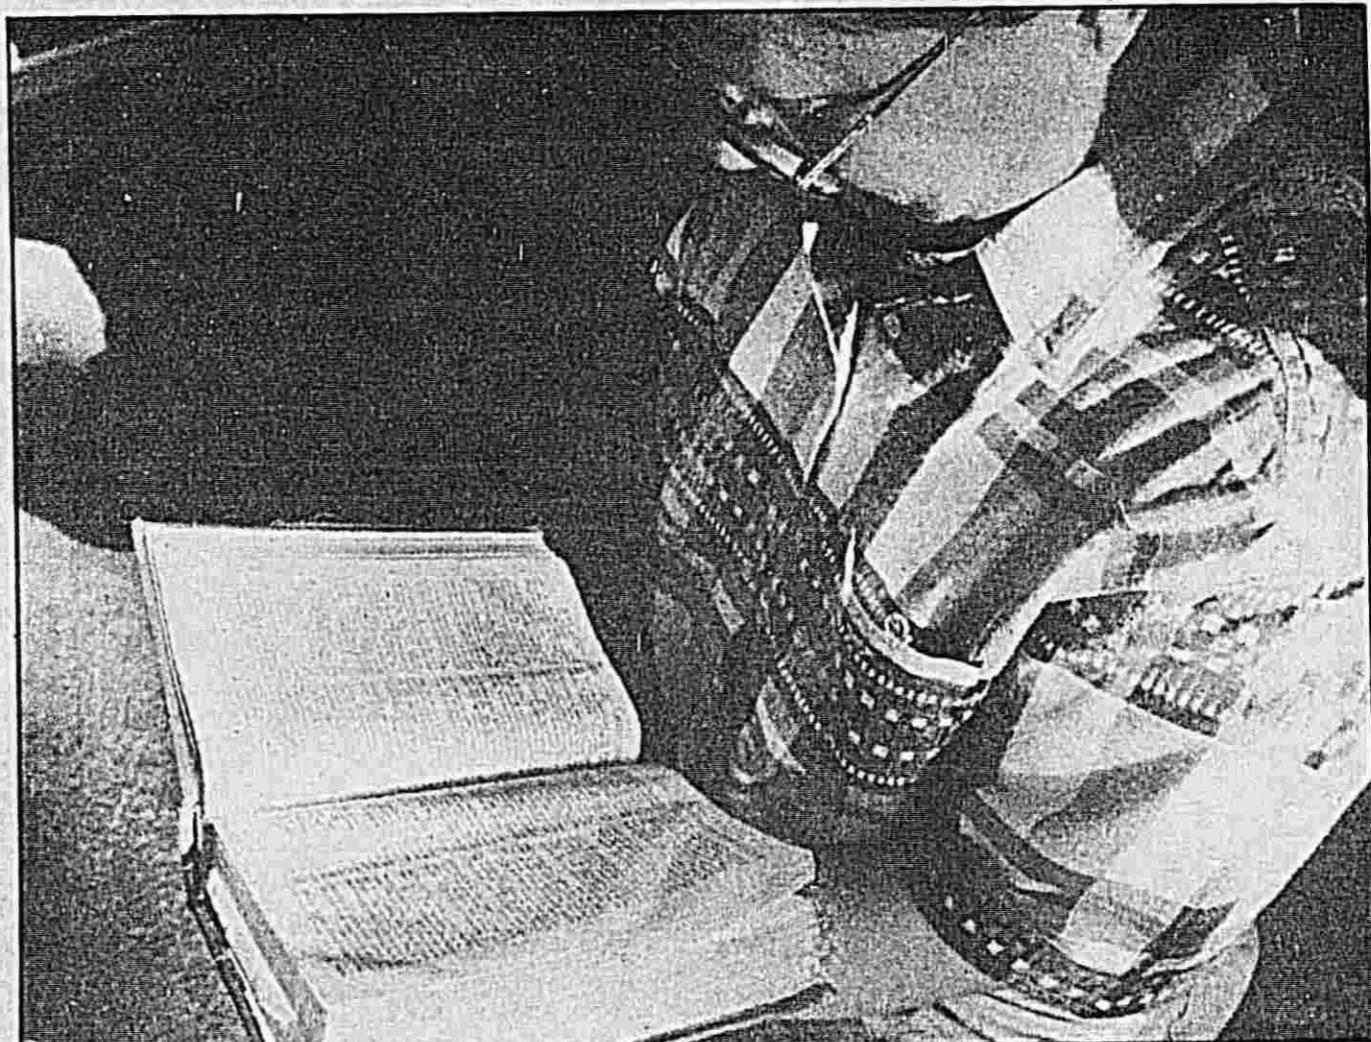

When Lisa Smith was a little girl she preferred to wear pants to dresses. She was highly energetic and her choice of clothing reflected it when she did things like climb the apple tree behind her family's rural Michigan home.

The clothes her child wore were not enough for her mother to think anything was amiss in her daughter's development, but she did remember wonder about Lisa one day at 3 years old.

"I told her Tommy was my best friend and I wanted to marry Susan," Smith recalled.

As the years went by and Lisa requested things such as a catcher's mitt for Christmas while her sister got dolls, she remembered hearing from her mother that God loved her and her siblings no matter who they were. No one ever talked about being interested in members of the opposite sex.

When Smith went off to college in 1968, she had an awakening of sorts. She met a young man from a wealthy family who was afraid to tell his parents he was gay. She thought if he had so many resources available See CHURCH page B3

"If I don't spend a little time with God every day, a big part of my life is missing," says Lisa Smith (not her real name). Smith, a lesbian, searched at length for a church that would meet her needs before finding one in Waukegan.—Photo by Todd F. Helsler finally over with."

Gurnee

Jim Jorgensen had to change his plans for his current affairs class at Warren Township High School.

"I was going to pass out a list of the things the prosecution and defense evidence which the jury did not get to see and see if that would generate some discussion," Jorgensen said.

Down the street at Poteat's Restaurant, Gurnee Noon Exchange members were concentrating on the TV as well as others as the not guilty verdict was read about 12:08 p.m.

"I think they made a mistake. The defense was yelling racism and that is how the decision came out," Marc Connell of Wadsworth said.

"I'm disappointed," Jerry Jones, associate pastor of Gurnee Community Church, said.

"I am surprised it was such a quick decision," Bob Depke, Lake County board chairman, said.

Lake Villa

"It's amazing," said Bob Ringa of Lake Villa. "I am interested in hearing what the jury will have to say for itself."

"I think he is guilty based on the circumstantial evidence," said Carl Grote of Lake Villa. I don't know why they didn't try to make Al Cowlings testify and get him to crack. The prosecution didn't bring up the bronco chase. I think they (defense) played the race card and there was no other way it could go."

Lake Zurich

The crowd at Taylor Street Cafe in Lake

Zurich was not too far from normal, with only two other customers than usual, said Darleen Tegtmeyer, bartender.

"They all shook their heads and went back to the restaurant," said Jim Kelsey, Cafe owner. "A lot could not believe it."

Tegtmeyer took the news harder than she thought, saying she had an upset stomach even though she had not followed the trial too closely.

"My immediate reaction was I thought it was a great injustice," Tegtmeyer said.

Brian Peck, of Barrington, and an arbitrator for the American Arbitrator Association, said he suspected Simpson was going to be found guilty.

"The motive was overwhelming," Peck said. "Who else would want to slash Nicole Brown Simpson and Ronald Goldman," he said, adding they were both in the front of the house at the same time and no robbery was discovered. I think the defense was grasping for straws the whole time," Peck said.

Libertyville

At Mickey Finn's in Libertyville customers were calling all morning long to see if they could come in to watch the verdict.

Richard D. Morton, Senior Vice President of American National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago Libertyville Division said he felt it was sad that people were stopping everything to watch the verdict announced.

"It is amazing how this trial has gripped America. Everything is at a stand still," said Morton, who disagreed with the verdict.

"I think its a mockery of justice in this country," said Mike Rynning.

Dan Flanagan was one in the crowd who felt justice was done. "I thought he was innocent all along. It just didn't make sense that he had committed the crime," Flanagan said.

Lindenhurst

"I think both sides made mistakes. I think the trial was a mistake and is a mockery of justice," said John Miller of Lindenhurst.

Mundelein

At Redwood's California Grille in Mundelein, a dozen people watched the verdict on five television sets in the bar. According to owner Dennis Bouros, the announcement brought a reaction of shocked silence.

"The whole bar's quiet," said Bouros minutes after the verdict was read. "If he's innocent, somebody had to have killed these people."

Bouros admitted he was disappointed at the outcome.

"Who killed these people? That's what I'd like to know," he said. Now they have to look for the murderer. They've got to find who killed these people."

Mundelein resident Janet Schockmel made it a point to be home in time for the telecast and also expected a different verdict.

"I thought he was guilty," she stated. "I was very disappointed at the verdict. Justice wasn't served for the family."

Vernon Hills

She added another observation, "It's a step back for battered women, just because of who he was."

Wauconda

Eyes and attention were glued to the television sets at Legends Bar and Grill in Vernon Hills as a larger than normal lunch crowd gathered to watch the verdict read.

"I was not surprised," said Larry Best of Hampshire who works in Vernon Hills. "The key was reasonable doubt because of the circumstantial evidence."

Lutz Wudke of Waukegan who works in Vernon Hills said he agreed with the verdict because of the poor job the Los Angeles Police did in gathering the evidence.

"I agree the police did a terrible job from the beginning," Wudke said. "I think it is going to be a benchmark for police. Like they said on television, the jury was not there to solve the crime."

For similar reasons, Melinda Sundberg of Wauconda who works in Vernon Hills agreed with the verdict.

"I totally agree with the verdict. I don't think the prosecution proved the case," Sundberg said. "None of the evidence correctly pointed a finger."

Barbara Stiefels of Elk Grove who works in Lake Forest believed O.J. Simpson was guilty.

"In spite of all the evidence, I thought there was a good chance he was guilty due to his past behavior," Stiefels said.

Wauconda

Tammy Taylor, an employee at Pizza Sam's Pizza and Pasta of Wauconda, polled customers who crowded around the large television in a back room. The results — 30 guilty, 8 not guilty and 10 undecided.

"A lot of people could not believe it," Taylor said.

"I thought it was going to be not guilty," Melissa Micheals said of the verdict. "O.J. is famous and I think he bought off the jury."

Preserve rejects historic offer

LINCOLNSHIRE—Lake County Forest Preserve District commissioners said completing the Des Plaines River bike trail is a bigger priority than the status of having the Ryerson Woods visitor center listed on the National Register of historic places. The Forest Preserve District will draft a resolution asking the Illinois Historic Site Advisory Council to withdraw a petition from being considered for the national registry. The "Friends of Ryerson," which oversees the 550-acre forest preserve near Lincolnshire with the Forest Preserve District, had submitted an application to be listed on the national registry. Forest Preserve officials argued that being placed on the national registry would create further state and federal obstacles to complete the Des Plaines River Trail, which is expected to run from Cook County through Lake County to the Wisconsin border. The Ryerson Woods link is the only area not fully supported to complete the trail link. Ryerson Woods was home to Daniel Wright, the first Lake County settler.

Kustra speaks at MHS

MUNDELEIN—Mundelein High School added two new members to its Ventures in Partnership program, making a total of 19 businesses that work with the school in numerous projects. Comerica Bank and MacLean Fogg are the newest partners in VIP. Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra delivered the keynote speech during a partnership breakfast, praising the school and participating companies for working together to give students opportunities for activities and projects in the business world. "It takes an entire village to raise a child and Mundelein is on the right track," said Kustra.

Dog dies, sewer tests stopped

WAUCONDA—A study to find leaks in the sanitary sewer system in a section of the village is being blamed for the death of a dog. When Sheryl Ringel returned home after completing some errands last week, she found her three-year-old Yorkie lying unconscious after having succumbed to smoke. The village's engineering consultants, Baxter and Woodman, were conducting a smoke test in manholes and drains in the Lakeview Villa area of town last week. Cricket died the next evening, with preliminary blood tests revealing high levels of poisons in her liver and kidneys. The company stopped the tests at the request of village officials, who are reviewing what happened. Autopsy results on the dog are expected sometime this week.

Suspect still at large

LIBERTYVILLE—Libertyville police have released a sketch of the subject suspected of sexually assaulting a 19-year-old Libertyville woman Sept. 25. The victim was walking home on Milwaukee Ave. near Hollister around 10:30 p.m. when she was attacked by a man described as a Hispanic in his late 20s with short brown hair, about 5 feet, 8 inches tall, and weighing around 160 pounds. Anyone with information about this individual or who saw anything that evening should call the Libertyville Police Department at 362-8310.

Village votes on aircraft ban

LAKE ZURICH—More than 50 hot air balloonists jammed Lake Zurich Village Hall in an effort to dissuade officials from approving a ban on landing their aircraft within the village boundaries. Only a handful of the balloon aficionados were village residents, but all were happy when the board postponed a decision until more technical information can be obtained. The proposed ban on landing any aircraft in Lake Zurich outside of emergency situations came about after three balloons landed unannounced at Seth Paine School last month. Mayor Deborah A. Vases was against the ban, calling it a "knee-jerk" reaction to an isolated incident.

Plaza location set for Rte. 53

MUNDELEIN—The Illinois State Toll Highway Authority (ISTHA) announced the preferred plaza location for the Illinois Route 53 North Extension...a single plaza located in Mundelein. The ISTHA looked at the entire corridor for preferred site or sites for a toll plaza and identified seven possible sites. Those sites were narrowed down to four that they could support safely.

After months of studies the preferred single plaza location chosen with the mainline plaza is just north of Winchester Road and south of Peterson Road.

Sisters give birth on same day

BARRINGTON—Sisters Karen Suydam, 28, of Gurnee and Elizabeth "Betsy" Thomas, 29, of Round Lake Beach, each delivered a healthy baby girl within 45 minutes of each other, Sept. 27 at Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington. Suydam gave birth to Savanna Suydam at 12:34 p.m. Savanna weighed in at 8 pounds, 4 ounces. Coincidentally, Suydam's first child, Taylor Suydam, turned 2, Sept. 27. She was also born at Good Shepherd Hospital on Sept. 27, 1993 at 9:04 a.m. and weighed 8 pounds, 2 ounces. Both children were delivered by Dr. Randy Zimmerman.

Police search for coin owners

ANTIOCH—The Antioch Police Department is still searching for the owners of an antique coin collection. If the owner does not come forward soon, the collection will be lost. "We're going to wait another month," said Deputy Chief Charles Watkins. "We've had two calls so far." According to Watkins, during the early part of August a young child between the ages of 10 and 11 years old went to a store in the village. The child asked the clerk to exchange the coins for bills, which the clerk did.

LaCASA office plan approved

GURNEE—Lake County Council Against Sexual Assault (LaCASA) will be able to build new offices in Gurnee. Village board members granted the not-for-profit agency the approval it needed to begin construction this fall. "I am glad to see this organization will stay in the community," Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton said. The present offices of LaCASA are in a Gurnee office building. The new offices off Grand Ave. will be 11,500 square feet.

Material plant rejected

LAKE VILLA—Mayor Frank Loffredo asked Vulcan Material Company to withdraw its petition for annexation and the company agreed. Loffredo said trustees still had many unanswered questions about the proposed storage facility and felt uneasy about giving the company a conditional use permit. The company was hoping to build a storage facility where it would stockpile limestone chip material for several Lake County locations from the Wall Street site just south of Grass Lake Road and east of Rte. 83.

to him and he was still confused, then she did not have to feel so bad about her own feelings. During the Christmas break of her freshman year, she told her parents for the first time she was gay.

"I was afraid to go home and tell my parents because it was a socially unacceptable thing. I wasn't scared they would disown me," Smith recalled, adding she has since lived with a woman whose Italian Catholic family did just that when they discovered she was gay.

She didn't feel any different about herself other than she finally had a name for who she was. Her parents did not disown her and in fact were not terribly surprised.

"They told me they thought that was a possibility since I was 3 years old. They also told me never to be afraid God loved me because God made me," Smith said.

Her faith grew along with her resolve to succeed in a world she says is harsh to people who are considered different. She answers frankly and sharply when asked about the endless debate of whether people are born gay or make the choice to be so.

"Let me ask you if you had the choice to be black and poor in this world would you choose to be that?" she said.

Today, she is a researcher in the petroleum industry. She is openly gay but sets some ground rules before she can be interviewed that are symptomatic of the problems gays face in society. Her face can't be photographed and her name must be changed because her partner is not "out." She feels she knows what would happen to her partner on moral and religious grounds if the truth were to be discovered by her employer.

"It is a medieval company. They wouldn't do anything they could get sued for but I know they would get rid of her," Smith said.

The dream of Smith and her partner is to eventually move out of state to an area that is more accepting of gays. In contrast to Smith, her partner only affirmed her true sexual orientation several years ago after two failed marriages. Smith encourages homosexuals to face their situation in society and most important of all to face themselves by admitting who they are. Her advice is dispensed in generic terms that could apply to anyone.

"You have to come to terms with yourself early on in life. You can't go on trying to be something you're not," Smith advised.

With the knowledge that God loves her has come another search in life—to find a church Smith says will include her as one of God's children and nothing less. She says she reads the Bible every day and the natural extension of that is the desire for fellowship with others in a place she can be comfortable.

"If I don't go to church, a big part of my life is missing. If I don't spend a little time with God every day, a big part of my life is missing."

Smith said.

She says her partner is not as convinced because she grew up with the God of the Roman Catholics, "an angry father figure." Smith feels they have found a congregation they can call home.

Roughly nine months ago, they began attending the First United Church of Christ in Waukegan because Smith knew the pastor was gay. What she says they found was a congregation, comprised primarily of heterosexuals, that made it a point to be inclusive. In August, after months of study, the church congregation approved a resolution openly affirming gays.

"These people are so good. They love God and only listen to God and actively seek his guidance. They are not just doing the easy stuff they feel comfortable with," Smith said.

time is now to get control of our national debt and deficit and pass a plan that will balance our budget. The time is now to pass the Contract with America," Salvi said. "Government's primary role is to defend the country and provide law and order so citizens can freely raise families, pursue happiness and conduct economic enterprise."

Salvi pointed to his voting record in the State House of Representatives where he has not been "a go-along-get-along politician."

"The fundamental question that I ask myself before every vote in the Illinois Legislature and that I will ask myself before every vote in the Senate is will this vote create more of a burden on our taxpayers?" Salvi said. "If the answer is yes...then I will say no. No to more taxes! No to more wasteful pork programs! No to more careless spending. I will say... No, I can't do that—I'm a Republican."

Among the goals of the Salvi campaign are:

- A balanced budget amendment
- Welfare reform
- Child support enforcement
- Financial accountability from the United Nations
- Increase small business incentives
- Repeal Goals 2000
- Abolish the Department of Education
- Abolish the Department of Commerce
- Enact a parental rights act
- Reduce the tax burden on the American family

• Make the National Endowment of the Arts, National Endowment for the Humanities, the Corporation for public broadcasting and the Legal Services Corporation voluntary organizations funded through private donations.

• Assure citizens are judged on the content of their character not the color of their skin.

Salvi believes the people of Illinois have a choice in the Republican primary between a consistent, conservative leader in Illinois and a career politician who has a long record of being a social liberal and tax and spend liberal.

"Don't be fooled by rhetoric. Examine for yourself the records of the candidates," Salvi said. "My voting record is consistent—on fiscal issues and social issues."

Tax cap working to curb spending

Despite a long-standing chorus of whines and wails on the part of school and park district officials, including voices in our own community, the celebrated but confusing Illinois tax cap providing some semblance of relief to beleaguered taxpayers has been a success.

Double digit increases in local taxes that became commonplace in the 80s have been reduced to single digits. What's confusing about the cap is that it is not a limit on individual tax bills. Few real estate tax bills go down in today's environment. What has happened is that the cap for collar counties like Lake imposes a limit on total tax dollars available to local taxing bodies.

Lake County residents just finished paying their 1994 taxes. The "cap" (limit on taxing bodies' increases from the prior year) was 2.7%. It was 2.9% last year, 3.1% for 1992, and 5.0% for 1991, the first year the cap became effective.

While complaints are sounded loudly, typically by school officials who claim their efforts to meet needs are curbed by the cap, the tax cap law was excepted for home rule municipalities, referenda and new construction. A glance at the enclosed chart shows that total taxes in Lake County have not been curbed. New home growth and other new development has insured a steady flow of new tax dollars.

Gov. Edgar and General Assembly members did themselves no credit when they buckled to taxing body pressure to enact a replacement exception when bond issues are paid off. The exception effectively emasculated the concept of tax relief.

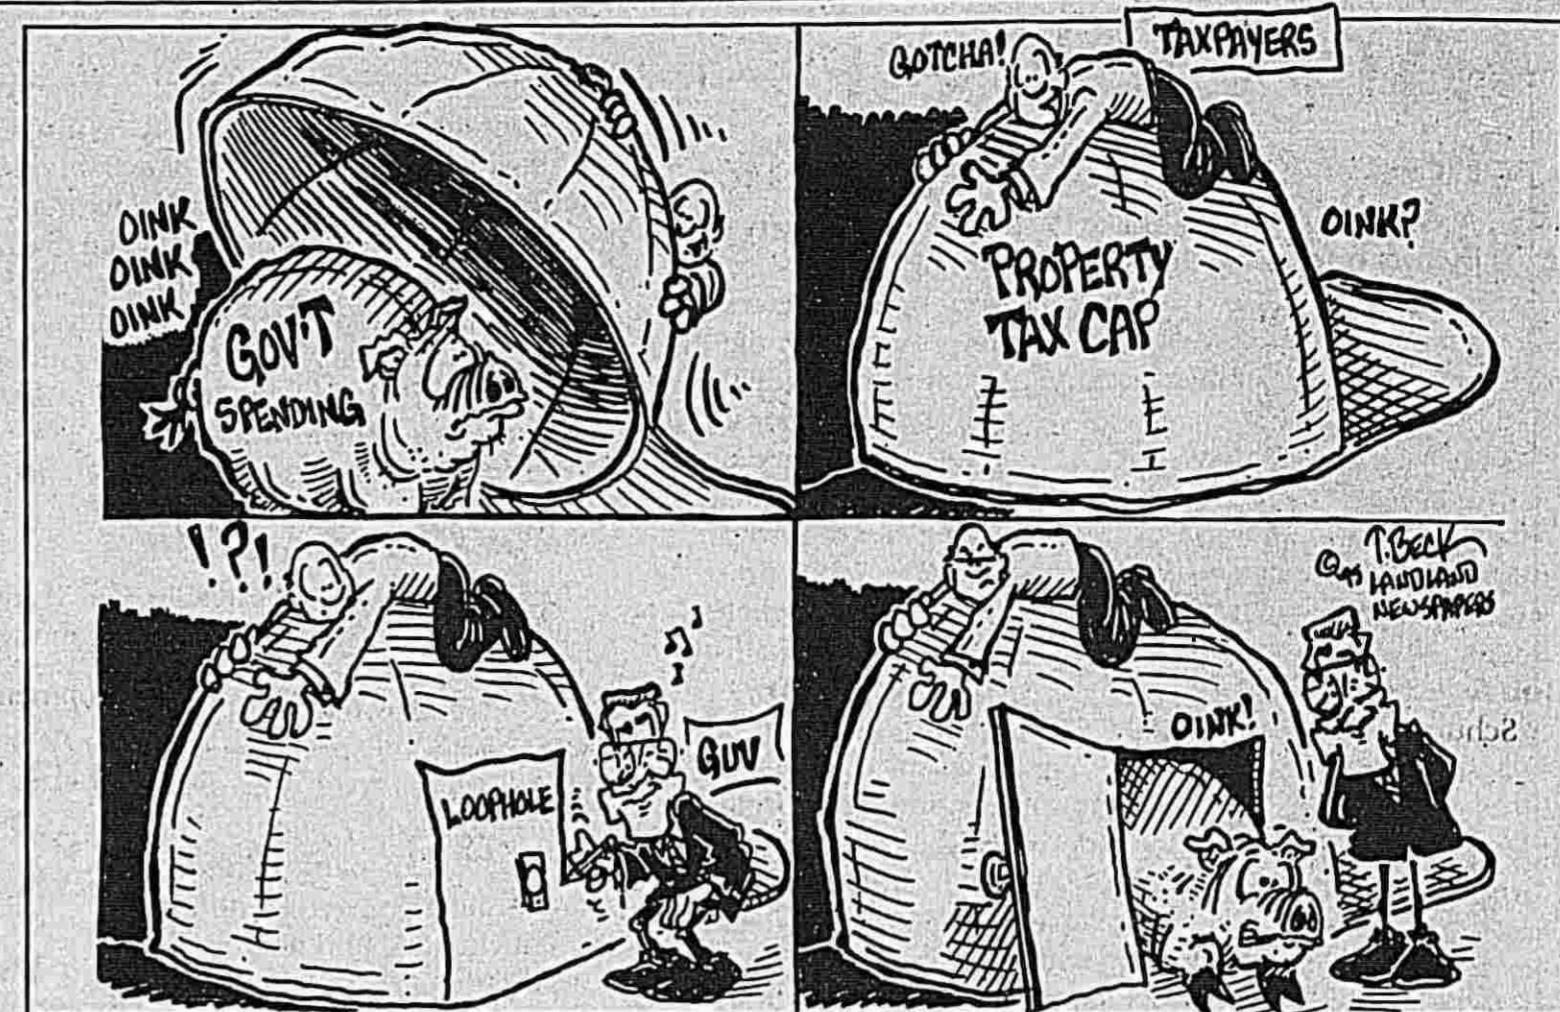

It was nonsense to argue, as did some politicians and a smattering of media pundits, that not to approve the replacement exception would have "tied the hands" of public officials to do the job for which they were elected.

What the tax cap has done, above all, is to crimp the "blank check" mentality with which far too many elected officials approached their jobs in the past.

VIEWPOINT

Brewery construction rattles cemetery quiet

BILL SCHROEDER

Publisher

Vernon Cemetery, reposing for decades in a pine grove guarded by woody undergrowth in what used to be Halfday, now has been exposed to the modern urban world by bulldozers clearing land in Lincolnshire for a microbrewery and stores.

One of Lake County's oldest cemeteries with graves predating the Civil War, Vernon Cemetery is accessed by a cedar-lined lane from Milwaukee Ave. Until the dozers went into action, the only sights and sounds breaking the solemnity of the final resting place of some of the county's earliest citizens were chirping birds and frolicking squirrels.

Occasionally, a red fox would cut across the lawn on the way to a den in the adjacent woods. Relatives visiting a gravesite have been known to startle a deer straying from the nearby DesPlaines River.

Vernon Twp. Supervisor Bill Peterson said Lincolnshire officials and developers, mindful of the intrusion on the quiet burial grounds, have been careful to steer clear of cemetery tree roots and leave some protective scrub growth stand. They also are planning some fencing to separate the cemetery and earth moving.

Township officers have talked about how further planting on the cemetery fenceline could be used to seal off views of the new construction. "But we're going to wait to see how things work out," Peterson observed.

In Lake County, it seems, even the dead are not immune from the helter-skelter of growth and development spreading over the countryside like a lava flow.

DIZZY FRIZZY DRIVER—I jammed on the brakes when a frizzy-haired young thing behind the wheel of a sports car abruptly pulled in my path from a subdivision driveway on Rte. 83. She kept her eyes peeled for on-coming traffic in the opposite lane, totally oblivious to me and other drivers locked up because our lane was blocked. Miss Frizz didn't look our way until there was an opening in traffic. She gunned across the center lane and waved. Did she mean thanks or get lost? I doubt if I was the only one wondering what driving school she had attended.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Don't fear planned paths

Editor:

I am pleased that the Village of Libertyville is working to extend the Des Plaines River Trail north to Adler Park. The existing portions of the trail are excellent facilities for walking and cycling in a safe, clean environment.

In response to nearby residents who fear undesirable activities as the trail becomes more accessible, I point to the North Shore bike path which passes behind our home. When the old railroad right-of-way was overgrown and not maintained or patrolled, we were very aware of people cutting through our property, and of the noise and litter from beer and pot parties. Only rarely did we venture along the path ourselves.

In contrast, now that the path is surfaced, maintained and patrolled, these nuisances have vanished. Families with children and pets enjoy a quiet, traffic-free route to walk, jog or bike across town. The many streets which cross the trail make access easy. The path's openness, the police patrols, and the presence of many good citizens discourage the bad elements who prefer more hidden areas for their activities. Now we use the North Shore path with pleasure.

I urge residents near the proposed Des Plaines River Trail extension north to Adler Park to get behind this project, work for its swift completion, and prepare to enjoy a beautiful resource with your family.

Lake County out of control

Editor:

As you often hear from politicians who run for village or county government, they all want "controlled growth." Unfortunately today, the term "controlled growth" means absolutely nothing. Mike Graham or John Balen can use the term and it will mean natural resource and heritage protection, while someone like Bob Depke or Dick Welton will use it to promote the development interests.

What is happening in Lake County? Several events lead me to believe that Lake County does not have control of its growth, as many of its politicians claim to want. Are these some examples?

1. Large areas of oak forests were destroyed at O'Plaine and I-94 (Waukegan), in the Hunt Club Road/Route 45 south of Route 132 area (Gurnee), and now on the east side of Route 45, north of Route 132. Most citizens want wooded areas left alone and expect the planning departments to mandate "clustering" and "conservancy" areas for these developments. There is no excuse for such poor planning.

2. The beautiful, historic little Stern school building, at Stern School and Hunt Club roads, was let to deteriorate, and then was demolished. Could not the township or the county board have renovated it and turned it into a community center or town hall, for community activities or meetings?

As one who was raised in Lake County, but thoughtfully moved to Kenosha County, I am thankful for a better assortment of tools the state of Wisconsin has given to municipalities to "control growth": A strong department of See LETTERS page B5

PARTY LINES

Schulien leads Salvi for Senate support

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Lake County Republican Party Chairman John Schulien broke stancce with GOP leader Robert Churchill by leading the charge in support of State Rep. Al Salvi's (R-52nd) bid for the U.S. Senate. Churchill has endorsed Lt. Gov. Bob Kustra in the primary.

Schulien was present at Salvi's Chicago press conference and introduced the senatorial candidate to the Lake County press at the party's Libertyville headquarters.

Schulien and Salvi have worked closely together since the two were neighboring precinct committeeman. Schulien says Salvi has consistently worked for less government and less taxes. He believes Lake County-native Salvi will bring to Washington ideas consistent with Lake County Republican views.

Schulien also believes other prominent Lake County Republicans will soon jump on the Salvi bandwagon.

Sheriff Clint Grinnell and State Senator Bill Peterson (R-26th) are already in the Salvi camp.

Schulien feels other Republicans who have previously expressed support for Kustra will soon jump on the Salvi bandwagon because when they initially began supporting Kustra, Salvi had not yet announced his intent to run.

One endorsement to keep your eye on is Secretary Peterson of State George Ryan. Ryan is likely to give Salvi his support, adding big name state-wide credibility to Salvi's campaign.

The Salvi camp promises to release additional names of supporters each week during the primary campaign.

Proven track record—Leading the Salvi for Senate campaign is Campaign Manager Jim Thacker. Thacker is no newcomer to the election trail, he helped orchestrate the upset win of Congressman Don Manzullo of Rockford. Manzullo defeated a 20-year incumbent in the Republican primary on his way to a House seat. Salvi's camp is hoping his grassroots philosophy will turn the tables for their underdog candidate as well.

In the hunt—Lake Forest businessman Richard Rinaolo has made it official—he's seeking to upset veteran Congressman John Porter (R-10th) in the Republican primary. Rinaolo made his announcement official Oct. 2 with dual press conferences in Lake Forest and Chicago. Rinaolo is the owner of Phase Two, an established landscape design/maintenance firm in Lake Forest.

Selecting the Pope—Republican Party Chairman John Schulien likened the party's process of endorsing candidates to the election of the pope. The party will begin the endorsement process Nov. 11 with an independent Republican moderator. Schulien says candidates must receive a 2/3 majority vote in secret ballot to receive the party's endorsement. If a candidate fails to receive the majority necessary for endorsement, they may still be Schulien considered qualified for the office. The party plans to announce endorsements Nov. 25.

A new beginning—For the first time since the Committee of the Trustees was created in Lake Zurich, Mayor Deborah A. Vasels sat on the dais with the other board members. Also attending the meeting for the first time was Trustee Karen Demos-Rosenthal, and Trustee Gary Winchester, who had previously sat in on a committee session.

All have attended meetings as audience members since the committee was created by Trustees Jim Weakly, John G. Tolomei, Jim Krischke and former Trustee Charles Crawford. Crawford resigned last week. The committee of the trustees restricted the mayor as a non-voting member of the committee.

As soon as the meeting started Sept. 25, a battle erupted over who would chair the meeting in Crawford's place. Krischke was elected as chair pro tem after a lengthy debate.

"I am quite pleased to see everyone here tonight," Tolomei said.

"We also wish to do what is best for Krischke the community," said Demos-Rosenthal.

Big plans on hold—The Solid Waste Agency of Lake County has big plans this year on ways to reduce waste. Two proposals call for creating a commercial recycling pilot project and mandating recycling for multi-family units. Unfortunately, those plans will have to wait as not enough SWALCO board members attended the Sept. 28 meeting in Grayslake in have a quorum for voting purposes. SWALCO meets just once a month.

Challenging Beattie—Lake Forest Pharmacist Mark L. Shaw is challenging Mary Beattie (R-Dist. 16) for her seat on the Lake County Board. Shaw is seeking a greater balance between open space and development in the county. Beattie is clearly up to the challenge and fully intends to seek reelection.

The last word—Beattie

Hours after her appointment to fill a vacant trustee seat was rejected, and plans to dredge a portion of private Lake Zurich were deep-sixed by her vote, Mayor Deborah A. Vasels had the final word.

After Monday's board meeting had adjourned and most everyone left, including a bloc of three trustees—Jim Weakly, John G. Tolomei and Jim Krischke—left, Vasels left the board room, stepped outside village hall, and passed out T-shirts to Trustees Karen Demos-Rosenthal, Gary Winchester, and two former board members. What did the shirts say? The word "whining" inside a circle with a slash across it. Vasels says the motto refers to one the previous board had adopted.

Off the mark—When bids for the 1-million-gallon reservoir tank on Winchester Rd. came in higher than expected, Mundelein Village Board members questioned the reason, citing similar situations with the train station and the public works facility. Trustee Bruce Campbell wondered if the inflation rate should be factored in more carefully. Village Engineer Phill Perna was quick to point out that the road project was under budget and blamed the rise in steel prices on other budget shortfalls. Village Administrator Ken Marabella said in each case several items were added after the original estimate.

"A little more Kosova time should be given for the estimate," said Trustee Ira Kosova. "It should be a lot closer."

Corporate driven—The real unanswered question behind the extension of Yorkhouse Road remains who is to benefit? A possible new theory is linking the Waukegan Regional Airport's expansion plans with the proposed Gurnee Convention Center. Dan Friedlander, hired by Gurnee to draft a proposal for the convention center, was present at a forum on the Yorkhouse Road extension hosted by State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karls. He said he's interested in an environmental impact study on the extension before committing to be in favor or against. Along with other well-known county residents, Friedlander believes some day the road may be necessary.

Barbara running again—The Committee to Re-elect Barbara E. Richardson as coroner is hosting an Oktoberfest benefit, Oct. 27 at the Mineola in Fox Lake. Hosts for the event, all women, include: Round Lake Beach Mayor Charlene Beyer, Grayslake Mayor Pat Carey, Libertyville Mayor JoAnn Eckmann, Lincolnshire Mayor Barbara La Piana, Third Lake Mayor Karen McCluskey, Kildeer Mayor Barbara Schwietert, Antioch Mayor Marilyn Shineflug, Long Grove Mayor Lenore Simmons, Mundelein Mayor Marilyn Sindles and Lake Zurich Mayor Deborah Vasels.

have children in the schools. The investment in new facilities, however, can pay dividends for them as well. Property values will continue to appreciate as the home buying public comes to understand our commitment to quality education.

If our district earns the reputation of failing in education, we will limit ourselves to those homebuyers without children. Selling a home that only attracts a small segment of the market place, at a lower price than surrounding communities, would be a poor reward for no tax increase.

I hope that you will join us in passing the referendum for a new middle school for the Woodland School District.

David Hoel
Wildwood

Sheriff Clint Grinnell and State Senator Bill Peterson (R-26th) are already in the Salvi camp.

Reasons for more taxes

Editor:

My wife and I live in the Woodland School District with our two children. This fall, we need to decide how to cast our vote for the referendum on a new middle school in November.

Based on our knowledge of the classroom conditions at Woodland, we can see an overwhelming number of reasons to vote yes. Our daughter attends the intermediate school. This year the cafeteria serves as additional classroom space, so the children must eat at their homeroom desks. This doesn't seem unreasonable, if the crowding were to stop there, but the Woodland School Board projects an attendance increase of 1,800 or more students in the next two years.

The space made available by moving middle school classes to another building will provide a solution to the need for increased space in the intermediate grades. The middle school also faces crowding problems in their current building. Class sizes will soon reach 39 students per teacher.

In making this decision, we must weigh the value of quality education against burden of a tax increase. Really, there is only one reason to vote no, and that would be to keep a lid on our property tax assessment. We have seen figures provided by the "Friends of Woodland" committee, who help to organize the referendum drive. Those figures show an increase of $60 per $100,000 property market value per year. It seems a fair price for a child's education.

I understand that many voters may not natural resources, a stronger regional planning commission with mandated environmental corridors, annexations that must meet the "in the public interest" provision, co-terminous (non overlapping) boundaries between townships and villages, and townships being able to provide sewer/water services, are just some of the most important tools. Bob Churchill and Geo-Karis & Co. have not done a good job to ensure "regional" quality of life.

Since Stern School Road doesn't have the Stern school anymore, why not rename the road "Depke Drive" or "Welton Way?" It certainly is a drive down the wrong way.

Fall Foliage

Select shrubbery enhances look of homemade forest

After planting the trees to emulate a forested look, we then moved into planting shrubbery and groundcovers. Since the forest floor was mostly shady, we had to be careful in any selection of plant material. And we wanted to stay away from the generic groundcovers like pachysandra, vinca minor and euonymus wintercreeper.

Starting from the ground up to eight to 10 feet in height, we used clumps of Microbiota decussata, a juniper-like evergreen. In appearance, however, upon closer examination this plant's needles are mostly scale-like and appressed. It spreads low to the ground and will grow in the shade. In the summer it's a bright green, turning to a bronzy purple in the winter. It likes well drained, moist soils so it can be hard to place in the landscape of a forested area.

The Viburnum x burkwoodii, along with the Viburnum lentago, were planted on the fringes of the forest in a scattered pattern. Both varieties are well adapted to sun or shade and both varieties have flowering interest in the spring, multi-stemmed in growth form and work well in naturalized plantings.

The Viburnum x burkwoodii has a pink bud which opens to form a white flower and has a spicy, aromatic fragrance. The fruit changes from red to black as the summer progresses.

The Viburnum lentago will reach heights of 15 to 18 feet and can spread to 10 feet. We used this plant in areas where the sun's rays would hit the plant to prevent any heavy mildew, which happens when planted in heavy shade. The berries are good winter food for the birds.

We also used Fragrant sumac and Staghorn sumac. The Fragrant sumac was used on the interior floor of the forest and looked great with its low, irregular shape and its lower branches turning up at the tips. After a couple of years this plant will begin to sucker from the roots and can produce a dense, tangled mass of stems and leaves.

The "Gro low" cultivar was used by us on this project. It has an excellent glossy foliage throughout the summer and has an orange-red fall color. This plant was introduced by Synnesvedt

Nursery and is grown by many nurseries throughout this area.

The Staghorn sumac was used in this project because it's seen throughout this area and is good for naturalizing and massing in a forest. This plant also suckers freely from the roots and because of this should be used away from any patio areas or foundations... by MIKE GRECO, owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Inc.

'Kampers' gather for God in two-day spiritual event

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

Men and teenage boys are packing their tents, pens and paper and Bibles to become "kampers" on church grounds when they take part in Promise Kampers '95.

Scott Barrettsmith developed the weekend event in which men and boys will gather to glorify God and share some male bonding in a time of worship, preaching and praise.

On Friday, Oct. 13, registration will begin at 6 p.m. at the Indian Hill Chapel on 36133 N. Fairfield Rd. in Ingleside. This will be followed by tent set-up, devotions, campfire and song, pizza and prayer, then worship in music and singing.

On Saturday, Oct. 14, campers will arise to participate in prayer and devotions at 7 a.m. followed by a continental breakfast and a time of music and singing.

The days will be filled with interesting speakers and enlightened entertainment. Among the special guests will be Rev. James Ford from South Shore Baptist Church and Pastor Phil Kwiatkowski of Pacific Garden Mission.

Bill Faifer along with the PGM Men's Choir & Worship Team will provide the melodies.

The event will be on a smaller scale, yet similar to that of the Promise Keepers which hold gatherings of thousands in football stadiums around the country, said Barrettsmith.

He describes the basis for the event as campers being "men and boys of integrity in a world where it's diminishing." Barrettsmith went on to explain that Promise Kampers "will promote sound, biblical living and standards of living which this country was founded on."

Barrettsmith explained that the event is centered around a personal relationship with Jesus Christ. The theme of Promise Kampers is found in the Bible in the book of Psalm verse 15. Verses 2 through 5 suggest the promises the Promise Kampers are making.

Number one is a man who walks with integrity; two is speaking the truth; three is doing what is right in God's eyes; four is discerning evil; five is following through with promises; six is being generous; and seven is refusing sordid game.

Barrettsmith said he allowed Jesus Christ into his heart 11 years ago while watching a football game on television. Tom Landry, former coach of the Dallas Cowboys, came on the screen and gave his personal testimony. The words touched Barrettsmith so much, soon he was on his knees asking the Lord to come into his life.

Since that time, Barrettsmith said a void which he felt has been filled.

As a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute in Chicago, Barrettsmith went on not only to become chaplain for the Lake County Forest Preserve rangers, but also a Spring Grove police officer and assistant chaplain with that department. He is also a former co-pastor and is currently an elder at Indian Hill Chapel.

VA workers show the best of their abilities

Getting up in the morning can seem difficult, if not impossible, some days. It is hard to rush around the house getting prepared for work when that pillow is calling your name.

For Norris Watkins, this feeling is no different except for the fact he is in a wheelchair.

"It takes a lot for me to get up and face society as a whole every morning," Watkins said.

Despite the difficulties, he has done so for 15 years while traveling from Park City to North Chicago to do his job at the Veterans Administration Medical Center. Watkins is a patient services assistant and relishes his work.

"I feel you should like your job. The North Chicago VA has given me a chance for my independence," Watkins said.

Watkins is one of many who are benefiting from a program that fosters the hiring of people with disabilities. The North Chicago VA was lauded earlier this year by the Department of Veterans Affairs for being one of the nation's top-ranked facilities for employing people with severe disabilities. In cases such as Watkins, the VA has discovered the disabled individual is often able to perform many types of work to proper standards.

Michael Kurschner is one such case. The 11-year Lamb's Farm resident, who suffers from epilepsy seizure disability, was told he would probably not be able to perform his task for long when coming to the hospital.

"I was told I had six months to make it here," recalled Kurschner, who works as a filer in the radiology department.

The statement was not intended as a threat toward the 35-year-old Kurschner, but more as a statement of fact. The fact of the matter was no one had lasted longer than that time frame, disabled or not. Kurschner has been there four years.

"It creates a challenge and that's why I do so well," Kurschner said.

Kurschner not only works hard, he plays hard as well. Earlier this year, after losing 40 pounds, he competed in the Special Olympics and placed third in the world in singles tennis, fifth in doubles competition.

Just because the two men successfully overcome difficulties daily does not imply they are immune to disappointment. Watkins' process to begin working as a paraplegic was preceded by a great deal of soul searching.

As a Marine in 1976, Watkins injured his back while dead lifting free weights. After that, he expected to face the life long inconvenience of back problems, but his problem would become much worse.

In 1979, he was commuting to work when his left leg stopped responding. The condition quickly degenerated into total paralysis from the waist down. Partly due to his own pride, he felt quite alone. The condition was a result of a spinal degeneration. Doctors were unable to determine if the condition was directly related to the weight-lifting injury or aggravated by it.

"I was embarrassed about my disability. I was depressed. I didn't want to go back and face my family and friends," Watkins said.

After traveling through the gamut of emotions, he decided See VA page B10

LIFE'S A BEAR

DONNA ABEAR

It's a numbers game, and we're outnumbered

As you may have heard by now, the phone company—or perhaps Ted Turner, who has now merged his company with the entire free world—is changing our area codes AGAIN. If this trend continues, soon there'll be a new book on the bestseller list explaining how to make a phone call, entitled "Area Codes for Dummies."

I don't know about you, but this area code change is causing me a great deal of trauma. I'm not sure I can get close to another area code. It was hard enough to form a relationship with 708. I mean, hey—312 and I grew up together. No matter where I moved in Cook and then Lake County, 312 was there for me. We were inseparable.

So you can imagine how I felt when 312 was suddenly transferred to the big city. I was devastated. Oh, sure, I wasn't area codeless—I now had 708, but it was like an arranged marriage. I had no choice.

At first, I merely went through the motions. I even closed my eyes and imagined that I was pressing 312 instead. Still, the more I touched those new buttons, "708," the more I realized that although 708 was not 312, it had a nice ring all its own. And eventually, we grew comfortable together. Or so I thought.

Until they passed out a new area code map to us at work today. Imagine my surprise—there on the map was MY area code, 708, next to some hot little spot in southern Cook County. AND 708 was in Will County, too (talk about two-timing). Not only that, but next to my area was 708's replacement—a total stranger—847 (847 will also service part of Cook and Kane Counties, too! Must be quite an energetic number!).

I shook my head in disbelief. NO, this can't be happening to me. Not another area code change. Not more numbers to memorize. Give me a break, Ameritech—my brain's number mailbox is full!

There's my address (five digits now, instead of three). My phone number (with the "area code of the week"). My six-digit password for voice mail. A pin number for my Visa card in case I want to use it for a cash card. My E-mail address, which looks like something my cat typed on the keyboard yesterday. My calling card number, "so easy to remember," which consists of my phone number (with the "area code of the week") plus another four-digit code. There's even a four-digit code to open my garage door.

Not only that, but every time I call an 800 number, I get those automated voice answering services, which start rattling off MORE numbers for me to choose from.

"For billing information, Press 1. For mailing information, Press 2. For an update on the O.J. Simpson trial, Press 3. For a good time, call BUNNY."

It's no wonder I sit in my car in front of my garage door each night mumbling, "Is it 3423 or 3223, or maybe it's 4323..." My head is so full of numbers, I can hardly remember my name (which is why they print it up there at the top of this column—sort of a visual aid for me).

Well, I am not going to stand idly by while they change my area code on a whim. Nosirree, Bob, I'm going to DO something about it. I'm going to call the phone company and give them a piece of my mind!

Just as soon as I figure out their AREA CODE!

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Joy comes from creativity, sports and other entertainment. Couples reach important understandings, particularly about finances. In general, agreements with others are easily reached.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Guard against being overly extravagant this week as you are tempted to throw caution to the wind and purchase that pricey item. A combination of drive and self-discipline brings career gains.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Stock up on home necessities since you've been neglecting your pantry of late and need to replenish supplies. Family interests and dealings with financial consultants are heavily favored later in the week.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Couples are faced with a family dilemma which needs to be dealt with in an expedient manner. Someone seeks you out for a special meeting. Be sure to attend it since it has far-reaching business ramifications for you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) While romance and leisure activities are favored early in the week, avoid a tendency to overdo. You also have an unfortunate tendency to exaggerate your importance this week when in the company of friends.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Although you want to shop for some new furniture or accessories for your home, be careful not to overspend. A job you've been putting off can wait no longer. Stop procrastinating and get to it. Once accomplished, you can relax.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) If you're persistent on the forefront, you can make a great deal of progress and impress bigwigs as well. Later in the week, you have to fight against inertia in order to realize your goals.

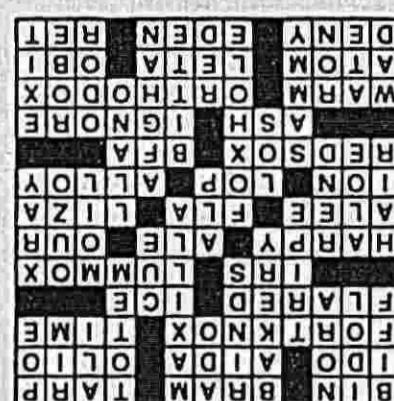

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Social activities tempt you like the sirens of old. Feel free to join in the fun, but make sure these events don't drain your wallet. Some things aren't worth the money they require. It's a great time to speak your mind at meetings.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Couples need to renew that romantic giddiness now. Seek out a very special place with meaning for just the two of you and spend some time there. In fact, a weekend getaway could just provide the right prescription.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The accent this week is on family harmony and, believe it or not, shopping for the home. However, don't think in terms of some grandiose purchase. Sometimes, the smallest knick-knack can be a real brightener.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An old friend surprises you with some exciting news. It's possible that the two of you can collaborate on a lucrative project. However, be aware that this will require many long hours.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Early in the week, you are surprised by how much you can accomplish at work. If possible, take advantage of this and try to take off for an early long weekend. You or your significant other tend to overspend.

The leaves are changing, the air is cooler and it's time for those seasonal pleasures like pumpkin pie. For a new twist in pumpkin pie, try this recipe from the American Dairy Association.

Black Bottom Pumpkin Cream Pie

Crust

1 frozen 9-inch deep dish pie crust, baked according to package instructions, cooled

Chocolate Layer

1 cup cold milk

4 ounces cream cheese, softened

1 package (3.9 ounces) chocolate instant pudding and pie filling

1/3 cup canned solid pack pumpkin

1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice

Topping

Pitt, Freeman roll a 'Seven'

Warning to all Brad Pitt's teeny-bopper fans: your hero has shorn those long golden locks you love so much in favor of a crew-cut in his latest movie, "Seven."

Pitt, who has already made a name for himself as an actor as well as a "hunk," in such films as "Interview With the Vampire," and "Legends of the Fall," doesn't trim that thespian talent however as he and Morgan (Always Turns in a Good Performance) Freeman act up a storm in this dark detective story.

Pitt and Freeman play two cops in search of an extremely creepy serial killer who slays the victims in accordance with the seven deadly sins: gluttony, greed, sloth, envy, wrath, pride and lust.

The gory way each victim becomes a perpetrator and thus dies accordingly, may be a bit corny, yet it's very effective.

Freeman, is an investigator who travels alone and has virtually had it with the filth of the world he has dealt with throughout his career, turning in a quiet, arresting, award-level portrayal.

Pitt's character, David Mills, the hot-dog, fearless youthful sleuth is in perfect contrast to Freeman's somber William Somerset.

The Stygian darkness of the movie—produced by Arnold Kopelson, responsible for other outstanding white-knuckle flicks such as "The Fugitive"—and the suspense-filled script written by Andrew K. Walker, kept this viewer on the edge of the theater's seat from the start to its thrilling finish with a twist.

"Seven" has its fair share of bloody violence as befits the genre, so be ready for lots of stark realism, with a surprise shocker or two thrown in for "bad pleasure."

Pitt establishes his versatility in this one and retains real bruises, broken bones and bandages as his sanguine badges of honor.

"Seven" carries an "R" rating which may hamper some of Pitt's younger fans in gaining admittance, but let's not underestimate the tenacity of a "hunk" groupie."

For its sheer excitement and anxiety, and also because of the personal best performances by the two lead actors, we give "Seven" 4.5 out of five stars.

Yet, remember "Seven" is not for the faint of heart, but for those who dare to tread into its murky recesses in search of a heinous killer hidden among waves of terror, horror and dismay.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Steps brides can take for wedding success

There are many steps brides can take to make their wedding a success. The following suggestions will organize the many details and help get your wedding off to a smooth start.

Set your budget

Planning will be much easier when you work within a set budget. Once you decide on the total amount you want to spend, you should decide how much to spend in each area.

This will save a great deal of decision-making time because you will know what you can and cannot afford for each specific category.

Get organized

Many brides find checklists useful in organizing their wedding plans. There are many different methods, such as color-coded folders, computer files or index cards. After you choose the system that is best for you, the next step is to make a master list of all the things you need to do (ordering flower arrangements, for example). This list should then be divided into smaller tasks (call around for prices, match flower to fabric of bridesmaids' dresses, etc.).

Set priorities

Planning will be much easier if you prioritize the things you need to get done each day. You usually won't have time to follow-up on an idea the minute you think of it. Keep a list of these ideas to make it easier to set your priorities and get everything done on time.

Research

You can get ideas for many of your wedding items by looking through catalogs or magazines. Tear out photos of gown styles, bouquets and dinnerware patterns and take them into the bridal shops to help you when you begin shopping.

Bridal events

Bridal events are a great way to cut down on the time you spend running from merchant to merchant. Local newspapers give the dates, times and places for bridal fairs and other special events where you will have a chance to take care of many of your wedding details under one roof.

Shop by mail or phone

Doing research over the phone will save time by letting you get to know local merchants to help you to pick the ones which match your style and budget. Be sure to ask detailed questions and take notes. You should also take advantage of any information-by-mail offer that companies may offer. Catalogs are also good places to get gift ideas for attendants and others you want to honor.

Buy an answering machine

If you don't already have one, an answering machine is a good investment. Vendors can call your home number and leave detailed messages regarding availability, color, cost, etc. This will prevent you from being disturbed at work, and it will also allow you to deal with the vendors when you're ready.

Don't neglect other duties

You'll save time in the long run if you keep on top of other activities while you're planning your wedding. Letting things pile up at the office will make it harder to take off when you really need to. Think of how nice it will be coming back from your honeymoon without worries of extra work waiting for you!

Dream up a fantasy cake

A wedding cake will make some of your "sweetest" wedding memories, so couples can choose a cake made expressly for them.

Charming customs have surrounded the tradition of wedding cakes for centuries. Bridesmaids once believed they would dream of the man they would marry if a morsel of cake was tucked in a stocking under their pillow. And, today, for good luck, brides and grooms freeze the top layer for sharing on their first anniversary.

The top layer is especially fun to select as a couple. For example, you might choose a favorite flavor—like carrot or chocolate—or it might be filled with raspberry jam.

Wise parents make appropriate decisions in choosing preschools

Dear Marilyn:

Q: So many of my friends have children who have started preschool this fall. My son will not be ready until next year at this time. What should I be doing now to select the school that will be just right for him?

A: You are a wise parent to plan ahead. This coming year will give you a wonderful opportunity to visit preschools and make an appropriate decision, one that will benefit you and your child.

The first task will be to determine what type of school you want for your child. The possibilities are: Montessori, parochial, development, or perhaps, an academic preschool. Keep in mind the importance of choosing one that best suits your family and child. One important factor is cost. Another consideration is the number of sessions your child is ready for, and how many days you are prepared to let him attend. The location of the preschool plays an important part in your selection.

After you have narrowed down your choices, call each school and make an appointment to visit, hopefully when the school is in session. Remember, any school that limits visits or seems reluctant to have you around should be dropped from your list. A good preschool values parent participation.

On your visiting day, go armed with questions. You'll want to know if the school is licensed by the Illinois Dept. of Children and Family Service, or, are they exempt by law? (Some are). It is important that the preschool be approved yearly by the Lake County Health Dept. and Inspected by the office of the State Fire Marshal. Positive answers to these questions can assure your child of a healthy, safe environment. If the school has been accredited by the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs, you will be further assured of a quality preschool program. Begun in 1986 by the National Assn. for the Education of Young Children, this self-study and validated program out of Washington, D.C., has set the highest standards for early childhood education. Many schools are accredited, or in the process of becoming accredited. Ask!

DEAR MARILYN

There are other questions you'll want answered, too. You'll want to know about staff, including the school director. What are their qualifications; education, their longevity at the school? The beginning days of school are important. How does the school separate the child from home? What is your role? How many children in a classroom? How many teachers in a room?

Ask about parent conferences, when they occur, and how often.

A preschool should offer at least one conference a year. Does the school offer any opportunities for parent education, such as a newsletter, discussion groups, perhaps a lending library on early childhood developmental issues? You may further ask about school policies; health and safety, discipline, field trips, holidays, curriculum, and any regulations that will effect your child or you.

Be sure to look at the bathroom facilities and the outside playground. Is the playground challenging? What part of each day is spent outdoors? Children need large muscle play, the stimulation of sun and fresh air. Does the school value outdoor play in cooler weather, what and where do children play when severe weather occurs? You want the playground to be safe and secure. What rules assure this desired environment?

Once in the classroom, you will want to employ two areas of observation. First, the room itself. It should appear warm and inviting, maybe live animals, a fish tank, or plants, a water and sand table. Most preschools use the same toys and equipment. It is the manner in which they are presented that makes the difference. There should be blocks, creative materials, paint, crayons and paper, a play kitchen, dress-up clothes where children can role play and use their imagination, small manipulative toys. Everything on low shelves where children can reach and use them daily. Children's books should be easily accessible. There should be pillows and rugs, comfortable areas for children to be alone or with peers. Look for separate activities going on. Is there music, toys to peak a child's curiosity?

Your second area of observation will be the interaction of the teachers with the children. Do they talk to the children directly, gently? Do they laugh with the children and make them feel good? Do they listen to the children and respond to their needs? Are the children happy?

Can you now visualize your child in this environment, growing and developing while having fun? If your answer is "yes," you've found the right preschool. Good luck.

For more information on selecting a preschool, write to NAEYC for the brochure, "How to Choose a Good Early Childhood Program." Send a business-size, self-addressed, stamped envelope to NAEYC, 1509 16th St., NW, Box HC-BHG, Washington, D.C. 20036.

Use good sense for Halloween, other holidays

When October rolls round, parents of young children begin to look forward to holiday events—Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Chanukah and Kwanza. Parents might also remember how some anticipated holidays in the past turned into unexpected disasters. We recall the witch's mask that scared our 3-year-old and disturbed her sleep for a week, the boy who frowned and slumped into his seat at the Thanksgiving table and the exhausting frenzy of shopping that left the whole family tired and angry.

Or course, we never can have complete control of events that involve small children, but with a little planning, we can give holidays a better chance to be enjoyable.

Now is the time to start thinking about Halloween. Let's begin with costumes. First of all, ask your children whether or not they want to wear costumes, and if they do, ask them what they would like to wear. Costumes need not be elaborate or expensive. In fact, the most meaningful costumes are put together by parent and child with items from around the house. Consider using an old pillowcase covered with glued-on fabric scraps or a cardboard box decorated with paint or markers and held on with straps. Costumes should be large enough to wear over warm clothing.

Avoid masks for young children. Instead, buy crayons or paints for faces, available in a bubble pack at stores that sell costumes and other Halloween items. Be sure to have your young children try on their costumes and make-up ahead of time so they can play with the idea of pretending.

We've had enough warnings about trick or treating that we all know an adult should accompany little children and that darkness need not be part of Halloween fun for preschoolers. It's also important to limit the number of trick or treating stops by talking over the route ahead of time. If a child chooses not to trick or treat, suggest that he give out the prizes at his own door. Let your child pick those treats, guiding her to inexpensive non-candy items such as baseball cards, pennies, spider rings or strips of stickers or nutritious snacks such as tiny boxes of raisins or fruit rolls.

Some principles apply to all the family holidays we celebrate. You might keep them in mind during coming months.

If your children want to help with Thanksgiving dinner, suggest making a Jello mold or cutting (with a serrated plastic knife) fruit for salad. Place cards are the perfect project for children who are beginning to show interest in writing, and child-constructed table decorations win more points with grandparents than an expensive floral arrangement.

Keep it appropriately short.

Adults getting together for holidays enjoy talking together at the table for what seems like endless hours to children. To keep small children happy, either feed them first or set a separate children's table. And don't let children disappoint you when they turn down unknown foods such as rutabaga or cranberry sauce.

Remember how old the children are.

Parents eager to instill the essence of a holiday might take them to inappropriately long religious services or have them join in on a lengthy session of Christmas caroling. Unfortunately, what children remember is the attitudes of people around them. They'll recall that their parents were angry and didn't sit still. Make sure activities are right for the particular age of the child—in content and length of time. Take the family to children's services and when it's caroling time, pass around bells that children can ring.

Holiday outfits can be beautiful, but make sure that children can play in them. Look for clothes that are washable and don't get upset over spills.

Be flexible

Even when you have a perfect plan, something is bound to go wrong. When dealing with children, you can expect the unexpected. If you put your child down a little early for a nap, and the child doesn't sleep at all or falls asleep so late that you have to wake her up and she's grumpy, call your hostess and say you'll be late. Everyone will be happier in the long run if you say, "Go ahead with your plans—we'll be there when we can."—by CYNTHIA RAITT HEPNER, M.Ed., Director of Programs, YWCA of Lake and McHenry Counties.

Children can use pillow cases, scraps of fabric and paper plates to make Halloween costumes.

If Your Child Has Problems Learning at School, A Free Screening May Find the Cause

YOUR CHILD may have 20/20 eyesight but 0/0 Vision—the difference is critical.

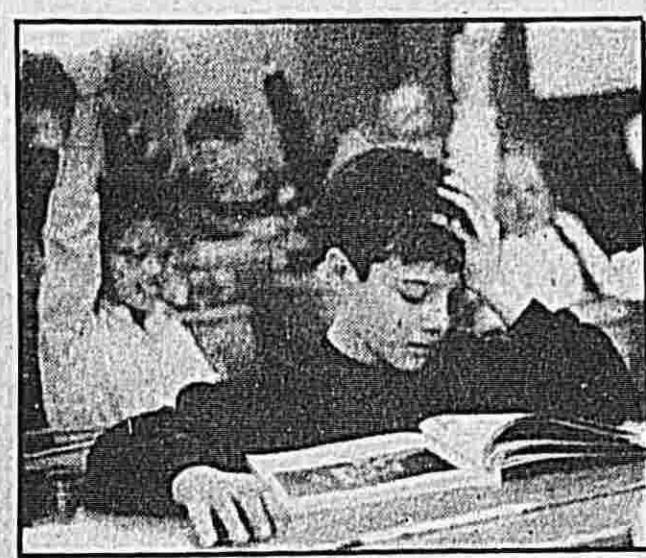

Eyesight is merely the basic ability to see; vision is the ability to identify, interpret, comprehend, and act on what is seen.

Routine vision tests performed by school personnel or by most eye care professionals measure eyesight. They do not include the kinds of testing that can find visually-related learning problems.

COULD YOUR CHILD BE AT RISK?

Our visual processing therapy program diagnose and successfully treat vision problems that are often reflected in the following behaviors:

1. Unable to sit still; cannot stay on task for any length of time.
2. Very clumsy; poor eye-hand coordination.
3. Does written work very slowly; often fails to complete a task.
4. Has difficulty copying visual material; constantly looks up and down.
5. Moves entire head instead of eyes when reading.
6. Reversals—for example: confusing the words "was" and "saw" or letters "b" and "d".

7. Is disorganized and frustrated when studying visual information.

8. Makes frequent, "careless" errors.

If your son or daughter, age six to 16, has one or more of these behaviors, call 708-362-9900 today to schedule a free screening for vision-related learning problems. It could be the most important phone call you will make during his or her school years.

THE FREE SCREENING INCLUDES AN EVALUATION OF:

VISUAL MEMORY: The ability to store and retrieve visual information.

CONCENTRATION: The ability to maintain a visual task without distractions.

REVERSAL FREQUENCY: Confusing letters (b, d, p, q).

VISUAL INTEGRATION: The ability to combine visual input with other sensory or past inputs.

MOTOR SPEED AND PRECISION: Eye-hand coordination.

ACUITY DEFECTS: Near-sightedness, far-sightedness, astigmatism.

EYE TEAMING/FOCUSING SKILLS: The ability to maintain clear and single vision at distance and near for prolonged periods of time without discomfort or abnormal effort.

VISUALIZATION: Ability to develop a mental picture—closely related to comprehension.

VISUAL STYLE: The evaluation of how a person performs a visual task in terms of accuracy, speed and energy used.

SCREENING CONSISTS OF 18 DIFFERENT TESTS AND TAKES APPROXIMATELY ONE HOUR.

Forty-one percent of students in the lower third of a normal class and 68% of students in special education programs have vision problems that can be corrected. Could your child be among them? It costs nothing to find out. Call us at 708-362-9900 for a FREE SCREENING!

WHAT IS OUR STRATEGY?

First, we test and diagnose a child's visually-related learning problems. If a visual handicap exists, a vision therapy program will be developed to meet the child's special needs. Once enrolled in our intensive Visual Processing Program, a child will work on specific goals. A professional vision therapist will conduct carefully sequenced activities to strengthen weak areas in order to bring the "vision system" up to par. The time span for therapy is designed to allow each child to achieve maximum results.

WILL INSURANCE COVER THE COST?

Here's a comforting thought. Our program is covered by most major medical insurance policies.

THE TIME TO ACT IS NOW!

If your child is between the ages of six and 16, call us today at 305-362-9900 to set up an appointment for a free screening. Any unexplained learning problem is a potential vision-related learning problem. When diagnosed early, Visual Processing Therapy can significantly improve and often alleviate the problem entirely.

The comprehensive screening is free. Can you afford to pass up this possible explanation for your child's baffling lack of success in school? Call 708-362-9900.

WHAT PARENTS HAVE TO SAY ABOUT OUR VISION THERAPY PROGRAM...

"I can highly recommend anyone with any question about their child's performance, after going through the program successfully with two of my children."

E. Tennessee

"Personality has changed in that Melissa seems to be much more forward in her relationships with other people. Her school work has also improved significantly."

Tips to help young children get ready to read

1. Talk to your child in complete sentences. Describe what you see, hear, feel, taste and smell. Begin when they are babies and continue throughout their childhood.
2. Read to your child often. Make it a good experience. Have your child retell the story through the illustrations.
3. Read yourself. Let your child see the family reading. Children learn by imitating.
4. Let your child know he/she is loved and appreciated. Seek out their strengths and capabilities. Be ready with praise. Avoid comparing them with others.
5. Listen with interest when your children want to tell you something.
6. Relate reading to everyday life situations (i.e. traffic signs, menus, labels).
7. Take your child shopping with you. Early experiences in reading and math can develop.
8. Control TV. Pick out good programs and discuss. Do not allow your child to be only a passive participant.
9. Take trips to points of interest and discuss the trip.
10. Let children make some decisions. Offer them several choices.
11. Take advantage of daily learning situations by pointing out colors, numbers, letters and words.
12. Play games that require concentration. These games help increase intellectual capacity and vocabulary.
13. Have good conversations at the dinner table with thought-provoking questions. Help your child to expand his/her thoughts and not give just one word responses.
14. Encourage play with manipulative toys. (i.e. typing, building, cooking).
15. Provide many successful experiences. This builds self-esteem, so necessary for success all through life.
16. When your child starts to read, listen, praise, and encourage.
17. Do not over-emphasize learning tasks, or put pressure on your child.

Dear Parents,

Watching my wife, Linda (the boss), do the art work on our fall menu, taking note of the pumpkins, Christmas tree, Halloween witches and the wind-blown little girls reminded me of when our children were your children's age. Those preschool years are magical and precious.

At this particular moment I'm recalling autumn walks in the park, hearing the crackle of the leaves as we roll down the hill (hoping no uncivil dog owner recently walked this way), remembering the giggles. How the children loved watching the squirrels scamper about looking for places to hide their nuts.

The wind is brisk and chilly, bringing a bright rose color to their faces, but the children's smiles seem to defy the wind.

We sit on the swings; I do my best trying to point out the beauty of one of our loveliest seasons and remember that in my childhood this is the same swing I sat on. I wonder if my face looked like my children's faces on this day?

Well, back to work, we've got to get the menu to the printer - bright gold for fall.

Oh, did I tell you? One of my children who I was talking about now has her own little girl, Kayla, in preschool just like you. Kayla's mom and dad are busy all week, working hard, hoping to afford college for Kayla; the same hope I had and was fortunate enough to see realized.

I'll bet Kayla will roll in the leaves with her mom and dad too, maybe sit on those same swings.

This is a very busy time of year here at Plum Catering with many new schools starting, VERY BUSY...but maybe in a couple of weeks, in the middle of the week when we can have the park all to ourselves, I'll play hocky and so will Kayla from daycare. We'll sit on those same swings I sat on as a boy! I don't know if I will roll down that hill - I'm considerably older and I see more indiscriminate dog walkers than ever. Oh heck, it'll be worth it for the giggles!

Being taught to read

by James Hymes

When a child creates with blocks, when he communicates with paint, when he uses his body freely as a means of expression, he is being taught to read.

When a child uses his whole body—two eyes, two hands, two arms, two legs and knees and feet—to pull himself up a scary slanted climbing board, he is being taught to read.

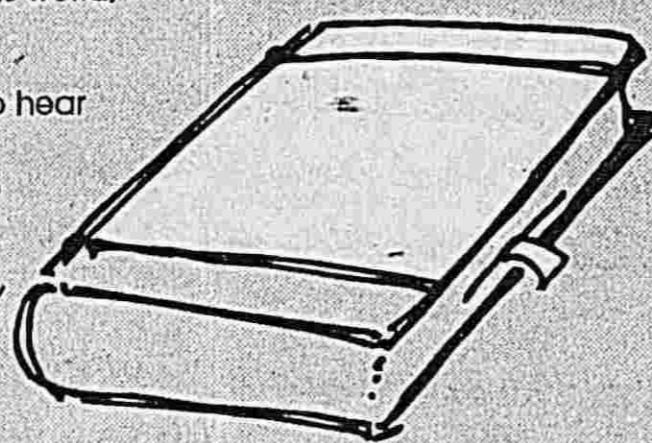

When a child hears good adult language, And when he has the fullest, freest chance to use his own language, he is being taught to read.

When a child looks every so carefully at the scale in the store or at the life in his aquarium, he is being taught to read.

When his year is a series of mind-stretching, eye-filling trips, helping him know more solidly his world, he is being taught to read.

When a child has the chance to hear one good story after another, day after day, he is being taught to read.

From "Being Taught to Read" by James Hymes

"TOMMY'S HAVING DIFFICULTY IN SCHOOL LATELY... ARE THERE PROBLEMS AT HOME?"

When Mom and Dad have problems, their children also feel stress. Often times a child's grades will fall and he or she becomes distracted and withdrawn.

The Bradley Counseling Center can help work out problems; helping parents to overcome their conflicts and help children realize that it's not their fault that Mommy and Daddy are fighting.

Bradley Counseling Center can help with a number of emotional problems including anxiety, stress, anger management, marital and family conflict, problems in school, loneliness, depression, suicidal feelings, eating disorders and substance abuse. Bradley also offers psychological testing and counseling for children under 5.

Seniors interact with children in day care

Intergenerational experience fosters an understanding of human development across the life-span. Shared activity over a period of time unites participants in a common learning process and common memories.

What makes an Intergenerational program is not that two age groups participate in an activity together, but that they interact with each other and develop meaningful relationships. The participants benefit from the connection in social, emotional, physical and intellectual ways. Staff are considered participants in this experience and will benefit from cross training in lifespan growth and development including early childhood through late adulthood.

The first Intergenerational Care Facility in Illinois was developed in Lake County at Condell Hospital. An Adult Day Care Center and a Child Day Care Center are in the same building. The Intergenerational aspects of the care, designed around the skills and needs of the children and the older adults are supported by a commitment to careful planning and evaluation. There are many benefits.

Benefits to children: Children have the opportunity to develop a meaningful bond and relationship with a senior adult. Children come to recognize different aspects of the life cycle as being natural and not to be feared. They see senior adults as active and useful.

Benefit to seniors: Interaction gives the senior adult a sense of continued usefulness. Seniors are empowered and are able to draw upon their own skills and backgrounds when interacting with the children. They have the opportunity to develop a meaningful bond and relationship with children. Physical and psychological isolation, and feelings of abandonment and disconnection are reduced.

Benefits to both groups: Children and seniors develop a sense of unconditional acceptance of each other. They come together in a partnership of giving. Children and seniors have opportunities to help and be helped, teach and be taught, love and be loved.

Benefits to staff members: Staff members give a fuller understanding and acceptance of the life cycle from infancy through old age. They have an opportunity to observe and participate in involvement among different generations. Staff members can expand their knowledge of the complexities of gerontology and the growth and development of young children.

Benefits to families: Caregivers of older adults have the opportunity to see their family member through the eyes of the children—as a person with continued worth and purpose. Parents of young children are comforted by the fact that a surrogate extended family is available to their children—even if the child's grandparents do not live in the area. Families are the beneficiaries of the accumulated knowledge and experience that seniors have to offer.

Benefits to the community: As children who have participated in an Intergenerational program mature, they will have a realistic view of old adults which they will carry with them throughout their lives. An Intergenerational program helps to develop a true sense of community. An Intergenerational program provides a service that growing communities need. It is believed that Intergenerational programs will affect future adults values, and therefore will affect future social policies, government policies and politics. Time will tell.—by BARBARA HALEY, MA, BSN, RN, NHA, director, Division of Health Facilities, Lake County Health Dept.

Have a 'scary' good time at Doyle's Pub & Eatery

You'll get no arguments from Mom, Dad, or the kids when you go to Doyle's Pub & Eatery, located at 5604 Mill St. in Richmond, because there's something for everyone! Come to Doyle's in your best Halloween costume for their Halloween Party on Oct. 28. A DJ will be spinning the hits, and $100 will be given to the person with the best costume. Enjoy the "coldest beer in town" from 9 p.m. to closing, along with drink specials, raffles, and a free pizza bar.

Doyle's is owned by Jeanne and Pat Doyle, who live in Spring Grove. Jeanne said the restaurant business is in Pat's blood since his grandparents are the ones who built the former Rustic Manor in Gurnee, which his mother Marjorie owned. "In fact", Jeanne said, "we have a lot of Pat's mother's recipes, including her famous barbecue sauce that we use on our BBQ Ribs, which is our Saturday Night Special."

Doyle's will reach their one year anniversary the week after Halloween. Stop by to celebrate with Jeanne and Pat when they offer a variety of drink specials and raffles at the bar. Everything at Doyle's is affordable and homemade, including all sauces, soups, munchies, pastas, pizza, and apple pie. Doyle's Steak and Chicken Fajitas are popular entrees, along with the Friday Fish Fry featuring Beer Battered Cod, your choice of potato, corn fritters, and cole slaw. Doyle's also features entrees with Black Angus Beef, including a variety of delicious burgers. Start your meal off with a selection from the "Munchettes" menu like "real" Buffalo Wings, breaded vegetables, nachos, soup, chili, and more. The "Specialties" menu offers delicious choices like Reuben, Rib Eye Steak, Gyros, and Italian Sausage sandwiches. Pizza, cold sandwiches with soup, Salatas, and a special Kids Menu are also available. Tuesday through Thursday, get domestic drafts for only 75¢. Jeanne says Doyle's chef "Tibby" specializes in Mexican food, so you've got to try something Mexican on the menu at least once!

Doyle's is completely remodeled in a casual, green, "Irish" decor and seats approximately 150. The downstairs game room is also available for catered parties and special occasions like rehearsal dinners, birthdays, anniversaries, and more, for up to 60 people.

For great food and atmosphere for parents and kids alike, visit Doyle's Pub & Eatery, 5604 Mill St., Richmond, (815) 678-3623. Hours are open daily at 11 a.m. until 10 p.m. on weekdays and 11 p.m. on weekends, and Sundays until 8 p.m. Closed Mondays.

Cancer patients receive an 'Advantage'

Cancer patients, their families and friends are aware of how chemotherapy and radiation treatment deplete the body. However, the body's endorphins can be a powerful ally in building well-being. Studies show that keeping patients as healthy as possible through cancer treatment can actually impact the survival rate.

Cancer patients are invited to attend the sessions which will be held on Thursday evenings beginning Oct. 5 and continuing through Nov. 30. Additional classes will continue throughout the year.

Enrollment is limited and a physician's approval is required. There is a fee for this program. To obtain permission forms and register, call 234-6112.

Memory walk designed to help fight Alzheimer's

Lace up your walking shoes, grab a friend and "Walk With Me" in the 1995 Memory Walk, a 5K Walk sponsored by the Greater Chicagoland Chapter Alzheimer's Association on Sunday, Oct. 8, in Grant Park. Registration starts at 9 a.m. at Madison and Michigan Ave. Memory Walk begins at 10 a.m. Honorary Chair is Janet Davies from WLS-TV, Channel 7.

The Chicago area is one of nearly 200 communities with Alzheimer Chapters around the country participating in Memory Walk in early October, the only nationwide event for Alzheimer's disease. Chicago's Walk is being held by the Association's Greater Chicagoland Chapter to support local programs and services for persons affected by Alzheimer's disease, their caregivers and family members, in addition to raising money for research. There are more than 100,000 people afflicted with Alzheimer's disease in the four counties the Greater Chicagoland Chapter services—Cook, DuPage, Kane, and Lake. Alzheimer's is the fourth leading cause of death among adults in the U.S., claiming 100,000 lives annually. That number more than doubles since family members and friends are considered "second victims" of Alzheimer's disease.

"Nineteen million Americans say they have a relative with Alzheimer's disease," said Carlene Motto, Memory Walk co-chair. "We'd like to see every one of them walking to support the fight against this devastating disease, and programs to help their own patients and families."

"This is our most important fundraising event of the year," said Kent Barnheiser, Greater Chicagoland Chapter executive director. "Since Memory Walk proceeds stay in the community, the event helps us provide better education and support programs for area families and persons affected by Alzheimer's disease."

The Greater Chicagoland Chapter goal is to raise $100,000 from Memory Walk. In 1994, the event raised a record-breaking $75,000.

Shelley Fabares, a former Alzheimer caregiver and star of the hit ABC-TV series "Coach," is national honorary chairperson of the 1995 Memory Walk. Official national sponsor is Sprint. Local sponsors are WJMK-FM, Oldies 104.3, Lerner Communications, Manor Healthcare, Parke-Davis, Chicago Athletic Association and The Wealshire.

John "Records" Landecker from WJMK-FM and Benny the Bull will be on hand to entertain walkers.

FDA-certified mammographies available

How does woman know where to get a quality mammogram?

The National Cancer Institute (NCI) hopes to make the answer to that question easier. NCI now provides consumers with the names of facilities that offer high quality mammography services in their area. Mammograms (breast x-rays) are vital tools in the fight against breast cancer.

Women who want to find out about mammography facilities by the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in their area, can call the NCI's Cancer Information Service (CIS) at 1-800-4-CANCER. If callers provide their zip code, state, city or county, the CIS can provide the names of FDA-certified mammography facilities in their area. This service, offered exclusively through the CIS, is a result of the 1992 Mammography Quality Standards Act, which requires mammography facilities across the nation to meet uniform quality standards enforced by the FDA.

"The new CIS service is an invaluable resource in the effort to reduce breast cancer mortality," said Nyambi Ebie, M.D., Co-Chairman of the Midwest Regional Office of the National Black Leadership Initiative on Cancer. "Assuring women that the mammograms they receive are of high quality can lead to better breast cancer detection, earlier treatments, and improved chances for survival."

The promotion of this CIS telephone service—part of NCI's ongoing commitment to the importance of early cancer detection—coincides with National Breast Cancer Awareness Month (NBCAM) during which hundreds of organizations across the country join together to help raise awareness about breast cancer. One of the primary goals of NBCAM is to highlight the importance of early detection, particularly mammography, through activities that empower women to become active participants in their own health care.

For more information about mammograms, call the CIS at 1-800-4-CANCER (800-422-6237). CIS information specialists can provide callers with information and free publications on all aspects of breast cancer. Spanish-speaking CIS staff also are available.

He served his residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Arizona. He is a board certified obstetrician and gynecologist.

Retirement foundation sets annual ENCORE program

The Retirement Research Foundation has announced its annual ENCORE Awards Program to applaud organizations serving Chicagoland's senior population which currently exceeds one million. ENCORE (Encouraging Community Response to the Elderly), recognizes innovative services and programs for older adults throughout metropolitan Chicago. Open to any non-profit organization in Cook, Lake, and DuPage counties, the eight-year-old ENCORE program grants up to four awards of $25,000 each and up to six commendation awards of $5,000 each.

The unique nature of the Foundation's ENCORE program enables many different organizations to compete for recognition. Those eligible include health, social service, religious, and community organizations. However, organizations need not operate with expansive staff and resources to win an award. Smaller organizations with limited budgets may be recognized as well for programs which enrich both the lives of older adults and the surrounding community.

Notes Sharon F. Markham, associate vice president of The Retirement Research Foundation and ENCORE program coordinator, "The size of the budget is not a factor. What does matter is the quality of the program. Winners must do their jobs very well and stand out from similar programs." The Foundation typically praises those organizations which actively involve older adults in roles other than as recipients of service and which generate community resources for seniors.

Applications for the 1996 ENCORE Awards Program must be postmarked by midnight on Friday, Oct. 27. This year the application process has been simplified. Organizations and individuals may also nominate other organizations worthy of the ENCORE accolade.

All applications will be reviewed by The Retirement Research Foundation and ENCORE Advisory Committee members. Site visits will be conducted for finalist candidates. Winners will be announced by the Foundation's Board of Trustees in February 1996. In addition to the monetary awards, which may be utilized at the winning organization's discretion, all ENCORE winners will be honored at a recognition breakfast in March.

LFH offers headache relief

From mild to migraine, a headache can be quite painful. Lake Forest Hospital's Center for Rehabilitation can offer relief for splitting headaches. The Center for Rehabilitation provides a multi-disciplinary treatment approach in helping those individuals suffering from chronic headaches.

Join Dr. Elizabeth Kessler, a neurologist with the Center for Rehabilitation, during a presentation, "Headaches, Headaches, Headaches" on Wednesday, Oct. 11, from 7 to 9 p.m. Dr. Kessler will present an overview on the treatment of headaches. In addition, the Center's team will discuss individual discipline treatment approaches. Members of the team include Dr. James Devine, psychologist; Kathy Kisilica, occupational therapist; Mary Pizano, physical therapist; and Rob Teste, bio-feedback therapist.

Participants will also have the opportunity to learn how bio-feedback works when Rob demonstrates his computerized equipment. A question-and-answer session will follow the presentation. To register for this free program, call 234-6112.

Hospital offers sleep disorders support group

Although the shorter days of autumn are fast approaching, for those who find it difficult to sleep, the morning still comes much too quickly. For many, the days' activities are hectic — between commuting, working overtime, carpooling children to and from their myriad of activities and family quality time, it's a wonder one can sleep at night. Many toss, turn, and think about the day's events. What can be the cause of one's resistance to sleep?

Find out how to combat sleep loss by attending Lake Forest Hospital's Sleep Disorders Health Awareness and Support Group. The next meeting will feature an open discussion with Lake Forest Hospital sleep disorder patients who suffer from sleep apnea. The program will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 10, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Conference Center Room A/B of the hospital.

For further information and to register, call 234-6189.

Watch out, parents

Parents, beware. Not all teachers at Calvary Christian School are Christians. Some are hypocrites.

Try a weiner

I'm calling from Round Lake Beach and this message is to my nosy neighbor on Pine Grove. I know who you are, you're the one who constantly calls the cops on me. The police told me it was okay to cook on my grill with mesquite wood. John Wayne never used Kingsford. If my grilling annoys you so badly, why don't you come over and try a hot dog? Don't you have anything better to do than to call police for a stupid Weber grill? Get a life and quit peering out your window at me.

Buyers be careful

I was just appalled. I was in a pet store in Lake County and cannot believe people run a business like this. There was old feces in every cage. The edges of the cages weren't cleaned in years. Pets were being held that shouldn't have been. Animals were sickly. Children were putting fingers in cages, etc. There was a sign that said, "All livestock sales are final."

How can the Department of Agriculture allow pet store owners to neglect animals and put humans in danger from all these diseases? Before you purchase a pet from a pet store, look in their cages and behind their cages. Check to see if the animals are active. You're not only wasting money by purchasing sickly animals, but you're putting your family in danger of disease. I hope the Department of Agriculture starts checking out these pet stores.

Don't cut in

Just to remind people, when there's a funeral procession, it doesn't matter if there's 10 or 100 cars, don't cut in between them and break it up. The people in these processions are in a lot of pain and agony and don't need the anxiety of being separated from the rest of the procession and not knowing where to go.

Move over

This is in response to "Messy Hill." You have to understand something. You don't seem to appreciate the fact that new homes are being built in your backyard. I didn't appreciate it when your home was being built in my backyard. It's people like you that are causing new homes to be built. There's too many people in this county. We have to sit back and wonder who we're allowing into office, because they're the ones who are regulating all these new people. It used to take me six minutes to get to work, now it's 15 minutes, and pretty soon it'll be a half hour (I live and work in Grayslake). There's too many people in Grayslake — move over!

Wrong person

To the person who reprimanded Suzi Schmidt about the trees on Rollins and Wilson, that's not her district, it's Ed Fojtik's. You might want to call him and ask him what he thinks about the destruction of the trees and that the road will be closed for approximately 60 days. I hope someone has a plan for fire and rescue service.

No royalty

The mayor of Round Lake Beach needs to realize he's not king of the village. He is by state statute a weak mayor. So, get off your throne, pizza boy, and let the trustees do their jobs.

Give chipper back

I live in Lake Villa and read with interest the message in the Sept. 15 Lipservice "Take care of the road" with Mr. Semmerling. It's amazing that he used to tell us when he wanted funding for the small chipper that he was going to lend it to other communities for a small fee and that it would be available to the township to get rid of branches and such. Now he tells us it's not his responsibility. It's the township's. If that's so, he needs to give the chipper back to the township. I'd like to know what else he does to justify his money and what other lies he's telling us!

Riding high

Trustee Seeger of Fox Lake, get off your high horse. Leave the village employees alone. You used to be a nice person, but now that you're a trustee, you've let it go right to your head.

Congratulations to the Fox Lake village board and the mayor and also to Mr. Seglin, for implementing and enforcing the local ordinances regarding Lydia the elephant in Fox Lake that was picked up and driven out of town. They deserve the red carpet treatment for doing what they do and for what they've accomplished. It's about time the village enforces ordinances and, regulations. I praise the village for what they've done.

Homeowners beware

We live in the township of Antioch and recently heard a neighbor's garage had been invaded. The invader was recognized and the matter was turned over to the police. However, the person got off with a slight slap on his hand because there weren't any "no trespassing" signs posted and he was spotted before he had a chance to grab anything. Once again it looks like laws are created to protect the criminal element in our society and leave the victims out in the cold world to fend for themselves. Do we really want to create an atmosphere where community neighborhoods need to display "no trespassing" signs in order to protect private properties? Yes, this particular offender got off this time, or did he? Now he must live with his own conscience (if he has one) that he attempted to violate the privacy of a fellow See LIPSERVICE page B31 neighbor. Just maybe he'll have trouble walking tall, straight and proud wondering what is being whispered behind his back in this small community. He single-handedly tarnished his good name.

No to tollway

Wrong again, Mayor Carey and the village board. Stop using the royal "we." You may support the extension of Illinois 53 through Grayslake, but we don't. Did you ask us before you voted? No, of course not. We are stepping up and saying we don't want this tollway through our backyard.

Let us leave

I go to Antioch Community High School and I think we should be allowed off our campus for lunch because the cafeteria is really crowded. We are hardly able to move. There's barely any tables left and I believe we should be able to leave campus for lunch.

Try your best

I'd like to remark on the new president at Ellis School. I was very unhappy at the PTA meeting when he said he wasn't going to introduce the teachers because he didn't know them. How about it, Mr. Patterson, we know you didn't want to leave Murphy School, but please try your best for our students and teachers.

Check out Bishop

Hey, Antioch Police Dept., how about patrolling Bishop St. in Antioch during the hours that kids are driving to and from school? It's right next to the high school and these kids are driving up and down that road like wildfire. A couple of patrol cars down there might do a lot of good.

You're responsible

This is to who called in titled 'Where Is security.' I lived in Parkwood Apartments and it's the responsibility of the people that live in the apartment to make sure that nobody besides their family and their neighbors are in that building, not the person who owns the building.

Questions

As a parent of two elementary students in Round Lake schools, I have questions for Jim Holt. Just what do you have to hide? Why are you so afraid of someone running against you? Is it that you know you don't have an ice cube's chance in hell of winning? I say give someone else a chance to run and see how fast you're out of that office.

Precious cargo

Please don't follow so close behind me. When you see me coming, please don't pull out in front of me so carelessly. Please don't pass me quite so fast. My precious cargo, we all want to last. From a school bus driver in Antioch.

Open mail II

I'm responding to the article called 'Open mail' in the Sept. 22 issue. I'm also receiving from the Island Lake post office mail that is open or half-opened. It's usually something that looks like a credit card or something resembling a check. I am also coming across the same situation.

Get real

Wow Lipservice is great, I didn't think anyone even listened to it or paid attention. I was really surprised. Boy, did I stir up some stuff with this Grayslake band bit. In answer to Mr. Tibbs, you say here that you had 81 kids marching? I don't think so. It was not half a football field. I can count and can see. I know that students need to get together, but why didn't you meet like the high school did, a month before? Why couldn't the kids wear black shorts and black t-shirts or white t-shirts and black shorts? You have them wear black fur pants and a white shirt during band concerts? Why couldn't they have done that? That's not costly. You ask the school and the parents all the time to buy extra things. Let's get real!

Let's band together

Here we go again! It's the Friday filer from Avon School. Guess what good news it gives us? I am so sick and tired of it telling me as a parent what I should be doing at home with my kids. I want to hear more about what's going on at school, with the classes and what they're doing. I want to know about the PTA and all that other stuff. We're getting all this political garbage. I'm sick of our tax dollars being used for voter registration promotion when they should be using it to teach our kids. When it came time for Mrs. Smythe to be saved as our principal, they didn't listen to us. The whole school was full of people and that board of directors didn't listen to us. Now they're trying to get new people to come in, vote and override us. It's time to band together and stand up for our rights and tell them we don't want this change. I'm tired of the baloney.

Don't block traffic

I'm calling in response to the school bus driver who's complaining about the tree trimming trucks being so slow. I am also a school bus driver, although not in Ingleside. I agree with her 100 percent. These lazy jerks do nothing but tie up traffic and if you say anything to them, they just make fun of you. There's others, too. The worst ones are garbage trucks, especially in residential neighborhoods. They block a street and act like it's their God-given right. I also

Hewitt signs largest office lease in decade

Two Overlook Point, 321,000-square-foot building in the Lincolnshire Corporate Center, has been leased jointly by Hewitt Associates LLC and Van Vlissingen Co., signifying one of the largest office space leases in the past decade in suburban Chicago.

Hewitt Associates LLC and Van Vlissingen and Co., both Lincolnshire, have signed one of the largest commercial office space leases in the past decade in suburban Chicago.

Hewitt Associates, an international human resource consulting firm, will occupy 321,000 square feet at Two Overlook Point in the Lincolnshire Corporate Center, developed and managed by Van Vlissingen. This lease represents the firm's fourth expansion into the 304 acre corporate park and their second build-to-suit project with the Van Vlissingen development team.

"We appreciate the opportunity to do another very significant build-to-suit project with such a fine firm," commented Chuck Lamphere, President Van Vlissingen. He added, "On going expansions within our tenant base are extremely gratifying because they reaffirm that we are meeting and even exceeding client expectations."

"The expansion to Two Overlook Point provides additional office space necessary to support our current needs, as well as capacity to accommodate our future growth," remarks Dale L. Gifford, Chief Executive of Hewitt Associates. "The property also has an ideal location in relation to the firm's other Lincolnshire buildings."

Situated near the shore of a 35 acre lake, Two Overlook Point will be a mirror image of the Three Overlook Point building Hewitt currently occupies. A handsome pavilion as well as an outdoor courtyard will be shared by the two buildings. The new five story office building and pavilion will be granite and glass curtain wall with gray tinted glass.

The interior of the building accented with granite, will contain advanced computer training facilities, meeting rooms and a full service cafeteria, in addition to offices for Hewitt Associates expanding See HEWITT page C2

Condell plans acute care facility for Gurnee mall

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

More than 100 audience members heard a variety of plans for new commercial interests in Gurnee, ranging from a new acute care facility to a new pet store.

Several of the businesses were explained or mentioned at the quarterly Gurnee Business Community meeting.

Sue Skjordahl of Condell Medical Center told of plans for a 15,000 square-foot acute care center at Hunt Club Road and Route 132 in a Gurnee Mills Mall outlet.

"It is not quite an emergency room. It will be open 365 days a year and staffed with RNs, a family practice, ear, nose and throat specialist and have physical therapy," she said.

The two-story building will have services for drug testing requested by companies.

Outreach facilities are in Vernon Hills, Buffalo Grove, Round Lake Beach. Condell is also under construction with a professional physicians office building on Rte. 120 in Grayslake.

James Hayner, Gurnee village administrator, said the following firms have been issued permits lately:

- Denny's Restaurant;
- Fast Lane Lube at Gurnee Mills;
- Washington Crossings at Gurnee Business Center with the anchor being 9,000 square foot Woman's Workout World;

•A 30,000 square foot addition to Roquette, Corp.;

•A 30,000 square foot office plan for the Gurnee Golf Park at Route 41 and Washington Street.

•A Cost Cutters haircuts;

•A Max and Eddy's restaurant in Gurnee Mills.

Also, the review of the village's comprehensive plan continues.

The village has authorized a feasibility study for an arena - convention center.

Hayner said some "big news" may be coming soon regarding Gurnee Mills, but declined to give details.

Vonco is wrapping up niche in the plastics market

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

In 1955, Walter "Von" Vonstroeser came home and told his wife, Josephine, he was starting a business in the family garage. The announcement itself was not nearly as climatic as the events that preceded it.

Von was part owner in a rigid plastic packaging business with two partners and had a vision to get into the flexible plastic packaging industry. His partners had no inclination to do the same so Von sold his third of the business and came home to Grayslake to make the announcement to his wife.

The Vonstroeser's had three children and the first couple of years were difficult. Oscar Mayer was the first account for the new company, called Vonco Products. The company made flexible plastic gloves for the meat-packing giant.

Josephine helped pay the bills by working as a bookkeeper/office manager in the home business and elsewhere. She also performed another function she thought was crucial to the early success of the business.

"She said there were a lot of nights she was up all night praying that something would happen," said Les Laske, the company's present day sales manager.

The next day, it always seemed a check would come through from a client. The business began to prosper.

Four years later, when oldest son, Larry, graduated from college, he joined the growing firm. That same year it became obvious Vonco Products had outgrown the garage, so the firm moved to a factory building in the downtown area that now houses the Grayslake Police department. Ten years later, the business expanded and moved again, this time to Lake Villa.

Since its move to Lake Villa, Vonco has increased its staff from 20 to 85 employees and has gone through two more expansion projects. Vonco was the first industry in the growing village of Lake Villa and through the years Laske says it seems most of the people in town have worked for the company.

The company prints and converts polyethylene into products such as covers for broom bristles, bibs, hand puppets like one sees at McDonald's restaurants and specimen bags for blood and urine. Think of all the medical samples taken each year, how many brooms are sold world wide and how many medical specimens are taken and one can get the idea of the size of Vonco's production schedule.

Even though it has carved out a leading niche in an industry that is becoming more competitive all the time, Vonco is not resting on those laurels. Laske said the company has branched out into the mylar industry with a new product that should be revolutionary.

Right now, mylar balloons on a stick need to be filled and sealed at the factory. Vonco has developed a mylar balloon on a straw with a self-sealing valve that can be filled by the customer. Because the uninflated balloons take up very little room, the savings in shipping space alone will be a godsend to distributors.

The "VonFlates" are new on the market and, if they catch on as expected, company officials anticipate the business from them alone in several years could equal what the company is doing today.

It is a good thing Lake Villa is growing. There's a company in town that may be looking for at least 85 more employees.

Vonco Products can be reached by phone at 356-2323.

MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE

Terri Murphy

Leaving your home alone

The list of last minute details seems endlessly long when you are trying to leave town on vacation or for any length of time. When the span of time is one to three weeks, the list of what needs to be handled is quite different from those homeowners who plan to be away from their home for months at a time, especially out of the country for extended periods of time. Besides the normal services, like holding the newspaper delivery and mail pick-up, consider addressing some of these important issues:

- Leaving your home for an extended period of time can affect appliances and systems that serve the home. Properties serviced by a septic system present a challenge regarding the required testing riders attached to a contract to purchase. The inspection for a septic system will require that the system be "used," or that water has been running through the system for a true evaluation.

- Regular use of some appliances insures top form performance. Dishwashers and disposals succumb to "Murphy's Law" when left unused for a period of time. Assign someone to check the home out on a regular basis and run the dishwasher through a short cycle at least twice a month.

- Disposals love to stop running when not used for a while. Put through a piece of lemon or orange peel to keep the system fresh, followed by a dose of baking soda. Occasional use keeps this appliance working well. A good cleaning service will be necessary to keep the home looking and smelling fresh. Schedule a cleaning at least once a month, including a landscaping service on a regular basis, especially if snow removal will be necessary.

- Be sure to contact your legal counsel to consider setting up "power of attorney." When an offer is made, have the paperwork completed ahead of time to save the problems that come with poor timing, communication services outside of the country and conflicting and inconvenient time zone challenges.

- Utility services need to be available, especially with changing weather climates. Keep the water on to facilitate cleaning and watering of shrubbery. A home must feel comfortable in temperature when showing, as well as having lights for night showings. This is not a place to "cheat" and save.

- Check with your insurance agent on the risks with your current coverage and a vacated (not vacant) home. Include questions like vandalism, etc. An option is a house-sitter or company that places "professional" sitters in homes for extra security and insurance. However, if the property will continue to be offered for sale, be certain that the new "tenant" will allow the premises to be shown, and the condition be excellent.

- If you are working with a real estate agent, devise a system ahead of time to keep communication flowing.

Leaving a home alone needs special planning. Think through the process and be sure to cover all options for peace of mind, and good home care sense.

He served in the Army Air Forces during WWII and held the rank of First Lieutenant. He was educated at North Park College and DePaul University in Chicago, IL. He was the Vice President of Development and Public Affairs for Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School since 1968. Mr. Krit drew on his more than 40 years of experience in fund development to author The Fund-Raising Handbook, published in 1991. Mr. Krit previously served as Director of Development and Public Affairs for Mount Sinai Hospital Medical Center (1966-68); the Director of Medical Development for the University of Chicago (1963-66); and State Campaign Director for the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division Inc. Mr. Krit also worked in radio with Lake County stations WLXC and WKRS to produce and host a health talk show called Chicago Medical School Reports that featured physicians from Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School. Mr. Krit was especially proud of his Distinguished Service Award and Fellowship in the Institute of Medicine of Chicago and of the work he did for many non-profit groups in Chicago and Lake County. He served on the boards of the Lawson YMCA, the United Way of Lake County, the Illinois Foundation of Dental Care for the Handicapped, Illinois Council on Drug Abuse and CADAA (North Chicago Citizens Against Drug and Alcohol Abuse). Mr. Krit was also a founding member and past President of the National Society of Fund-Raising Executives and the board chairman of the Illinois Federal Service Campaign for National Health Agencies. When not raising funds for the Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School, he served as a consultant for several non-profit groups, including the Polish Welfare Association of Chicago, the Metropolitan YMCA of Chicago and St. Gregory High School.

Survivors include his friend, Susan Krit; 1 son, Justin; 2 daughters, Margaret and Melissa; 2 granddaughters, Kelsey and Mariah; brother, Norman (Brenda); beloved friend of many years, Nina Barker. The staff and faculty of the Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School will miss his countless professional and personal contributions. How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: I have been interviewing for jobs for several weeks now and am getting nowhere. I am beginning to think that I'm being discriminated against. Recently I was out with my friends and for one reason or another I now have three tattoos on my forearm which are quite visible, colorful and in good taste. I think people look at them and judge me as weird. On the last interview that I went on a week ago, I knew that I was right for the job but I didn't get it. A friend told me it was probably because of my tattoos. I called the employer on the phone and asked if it was because of my tattoos that I wasn't hired. He told me that was ridiculous and hung up. What should I do about easing into this tattoo thing? Obviously this could be the problem. What do you think? T.J. - Lindenhurst

A: Dear T.J. First of all...who cares about your tattoos...Obviously you do. It sounds as though you have a big problem adjusting to a whim that should have nothing to do with the fact that you cannot find a job! How long were you searching for a job before the tattoos, you failed to mention. Don't blame your unemployment on something so lame. Perhaps the problem now is your attitude since you got the tattoos. Calling an employer on the telephone to find out if he didn't hire you because of your tattoos, was preposterous, unprofessional and an embarrassment to you! Did it occur to you that if you're so self-centered...try wearing long sleeves?

Q: Dear...Search: I have signed on with several employment agencies over the last six months. I call them each and every day. Sometimes twice per day. I have not been sent on so much as one interview in all this time. I don't think they are doing a good job helping me secure employment. What do you suggest I do? L.L. - Lake Bluff

A: Dear L.L. Let me answer your question with another...If you are calling several employment agencies once or twice a day...what can you possibly be accomplishing? Being on the telephone all day asking people what they are doing for you is not the way to find a job. Do not rely on everyone else to help you secure employment. What have you done on your own? Are you actively interviewing and utilizing the telephone for setting up your own interviews? If the answer is "NO", keep in mind that an employment agency is not your answer to a "what have you done for me lately" attitude!

Q: I was told that the minimum wage has just gone up yet when I went to apply for a job last week at (name withheld) they are still saying that minimum wage is $4.25. Is this true? P.W. - Round Lake Beach

A: Dear P.W. The current minimum wage is still $4.25/hr. There was talk of a possible increase, but not as of yet.

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

Powerhouse Joliet Cath. next after Carmel thriller

A running back and a quarterback set up the situation, but a defensive end's play meant the difference between defeat and victory for Carmel High.

Taree Jones, a senior, was credited with the block which saved the game as Marist tried a last-second field goal attempt. Carmel was thus able to hang on for a 16-10 win. The victory improves CHS to 5-1 overall, 4-1 East Suburban Catholic Conference mark. It sets up a showdown at Joliet Catholic at 8 p.m. Oct. 6.

"It was definitely a playoff atmosphere to it," Carmel Coach Mike Fitzgibbons said of the win over the Redskins.

Carmel found itself down 10-0 in the first half as Marist scored on a 35-yard field goal by Joe Perfetti and Brian Finn snared a 42-yard pass from Tom Costello.

"But we responded after that with a four-play drive," Fitzgibbons said.

Luke Chorazy, who is Carmel's main target these days, caught a 12-yard TD pass from Nick Yeager.

It was a windy and rare Saturday afternoon game, necessitated due to light problems the night before, and the Corsairs took advantage of it as Yeager booted a 37-yard field goal for a 10-10 tie.

"That was the first one he has ever tried. He was not our kicker until last week," Fitzgibbons said.

The Redskins had star running back Ruben Rivera held in check, with under 40 yards.

Kevin Burris responded, scoring from 2 yards out on overtime's second play.

"Burris played well in spots and the overtime. It was one of our dive schemes which had worked earlier," Fitzgibbons said.

The Corsairs know they will have to pull out all the stops against Joliet Catholic.

"They are as good a defense we will see at any level," Fitzgibbons said.

Midwest League title on the line

Title implications will be in the air as Lake County Vikings battle Chicago Falcons Oct. 7 at Round Lake High. The Vikings bring a 7-1 record to the game with the unbeaten Falcons with a 6 p.m. start.

"Our players are very charged up and looking forward to this one," Vikings Coach Russ Kraly said.

The Vikings are owners of a six game winning streak as they downed Gary 21-0 in Midwest Football League action Saturday.

Sam Toia, assistant coach, started at QB for the Vikings. Walter Tesch, back for his first game, also played in the first half. The two combined for 58 yards passing.

Adam Tesch took over controls of the offense in the second half and he guided the team to its first score, a 6-yard run by Reggie Lawrence. Lawrence would add a fourth-quarter touchdown as well.

Luke Tesch ran for 84 yards, including a 1-yard TD run. Defensively, the Vikings got a safety for the final score and Mark and Dave Appleby showed the way.

Vowels serves 15 points, CHS spikers win

A senior showed the way and a sophomore ended the match quickly as Carmel downed St. Viator in two games Tuesday.

Carmel won 15-1, 15-1 to breeze to its fifth East Suburban Catholic Conference win in six tries.

Senior Erin Smolis let the Lions know what they were in for early with an 8-0 run with 3 aces. Sophomore Caroline Vowels served for all 15 second game points as Carmel won the match in less than 30 minutes.

"I may have done that in eighth grade. We have been working on serves a lot in practice," Vowels, of Waukegan, said.

Vowels started with an ace for a 1-1 tie and another for a 2-1 lead. She would add 3 more as she became the second Carmel player in three seasons to pull off the feat.

The last player to accomplish 15 straight was Stacey Harrison in 1993. Harrison is now playing at the College of Lake County.

Smolis features a jump serve and was 8-0-10. She is a senior co-captain.

"I have been working on the jump serve a lot in practice. It is fun and more intimidating," Smolis, of Lake Zurich, said.

Smolis had 5 aces and 2 kills and Vowels had 5 aces and a kill. Sarah Workman had 4 kills. Setter Gina Langer had 11 assists and second-game setter Kathleen McKeown had 5 assists.

"That was our goal - to stay focused," Carmel Coach Jo Gerardi said. "It was mostly a serving game."

CLC spikers keeping league record strong

Three freshmen turned in strong efforts, but College of Lake County's women's volleyball team once again found it tough going outside the Skyway Conference.

The Lancers lost all three matches at their own tournament Saturday. Blackhawk prevailed 15-6, 15-11; Elgin won 15-5, 15-4; South Suburban won 20-18, 15-10.

"We should have won two of the three matches. We had South Suburban on the ropes but they kept coming back," CLC Coach Sue Garcia said.

The bright side included the play of freshmen Jodi Botsford, a Warren High grad, and Stephanie DeGroot of Grayslake and Carrie Curtis of Antioch.

"Jodi is an excellent defender and she holds down the back row," Garcia said.

Curtis had 11 points and DeGroot had 10 points and an ace.

"DeGroot comes off the bench and plays backrow defense and serves. It is a tough role to put a freshman in," Garcia said.

CLC remained unbeaten at week's start in the Skyway Conference, 3-0. CLC (8-19 overall) hits the road for battles at Oakton Oct. 5 and at South Suburban Oct. 10.

CLC tennis standout set to leave tournament mark

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

On one Monday afternoon, Julia Sapozhnikova was working on the finer points of tennis with College of Lake County co-coach Richard Watson Jr.

The two worked on everything from serving to net strategy to refinements in preparation for this weekend's regional tournament at College of DuPage.

CLC Head Coach Dick Watson was impressed with the 17-year-old freshman from Russia from day one.

"You could tell from the tapes she would be an excellent player. When I saw her play in person, I could tell she would be one of the better junior college players in the area," CLC Coach Richard Watson said.

CLC practices twice a week at Warren Township Center, about two hours each.

"She normally practiced for six hours at a time," Watson said.

"Twenty-four hours of tennis," Sapozhnikova said.

A friend of Watson's knew the star player was living in Libertyville and encouraged the CLC coach to seek out her talents. "He knew her coach who had worked with her since she was a little girl," Watson said.

The Skyway Conference tourney and dual matches provided little tests for Sapozhnikova. Such is not the case in the classroom in Grayslake.

"She has made some dramatic improvement. She has picked up a lot of English," Watson said. "She has a terrific work ethic and the girls enjoy having her on the team."

"All the classes are interesting," Sapozhnikova said.

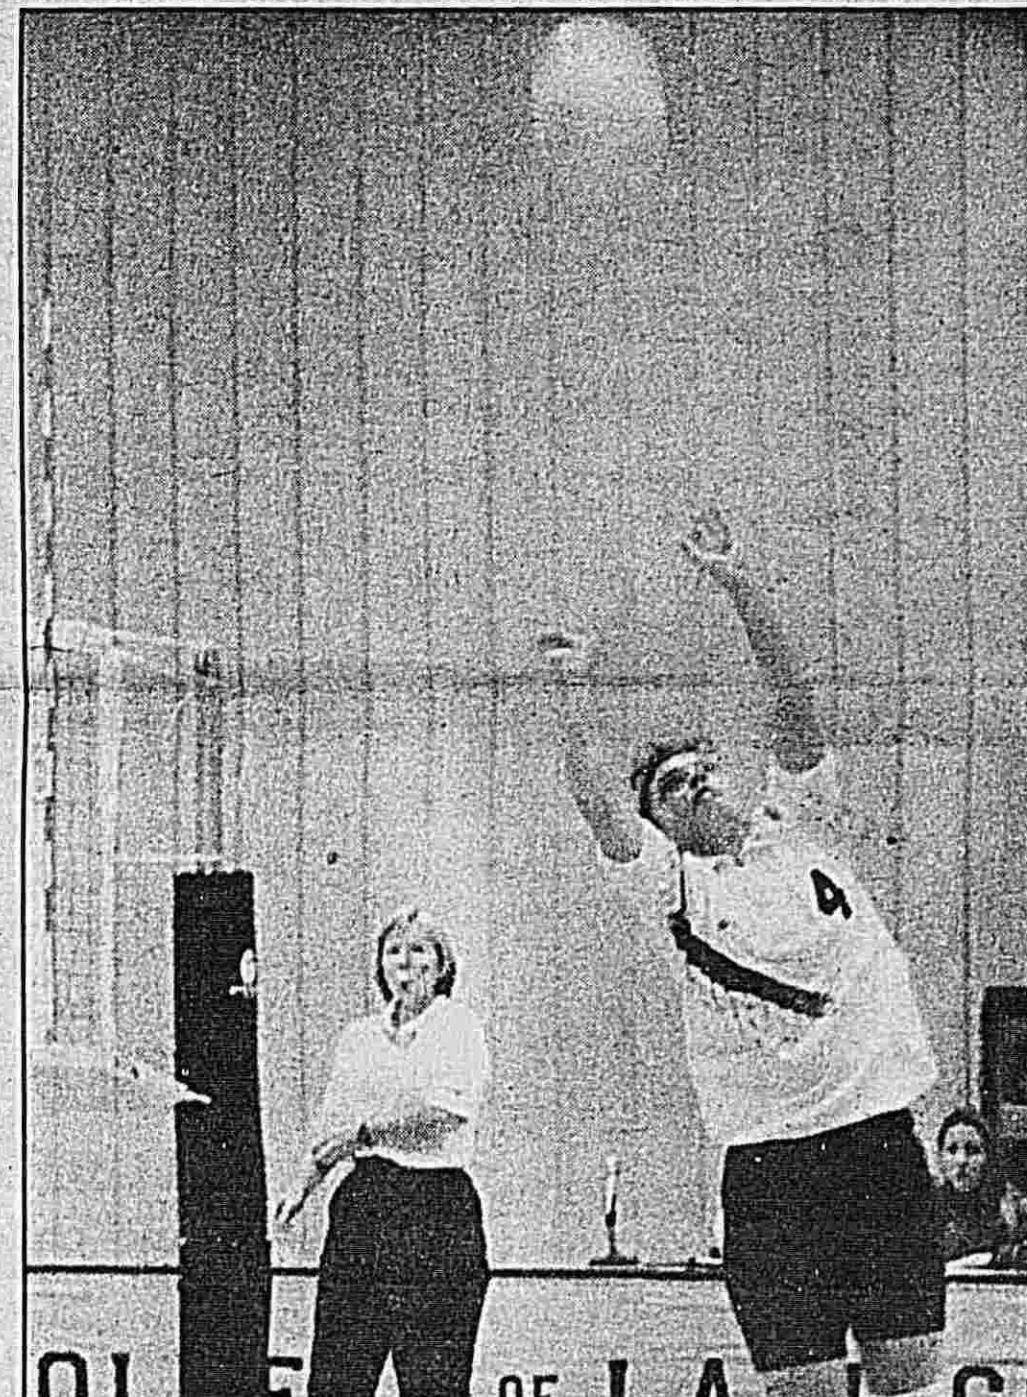

"She is a perfectionist. She is a very poised player," Watson said as practice concluded.

TV viewing is kept to a minimum at the Libertyville house where Sapozhnikova calls home. Except for near constant viewing of the US Open final between Monica Selles and Steffi Graf. Sapozhnikova is a Selles fan.

Sapozhnikova is one of three CLC players as part of the "Russian Connection." Jane Buckman, Julia's doubles partner, was born in the Ukraine and Irina Dobin is the third. Dobin is expected to compete for the first time this fall at the regional tournament.

Where would CLC tennis be without Sapozhnikova & Co.?

"We would be an okay team and challenge for the conference title, but we would not make nationals," Coach Watson said.

CLC nets another tennis crown; regional next

The Skyway Conference proved to have little competition for the College of Lake County women's tennis team.

The Lancers won their second straight Skyway Conference title with 21 points, outdistancing Moraine Valley by nine.

The Lancers swept all title matches, beating Elgin twice and three Moraine Valley foes.

Julia Sapozhnikova took the title at No. 1 singles with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Elgin; Jane Buckman won 6-1, 6-2 over Moraine Valley and Nichole Kirkman won 6-1, 6-4 over Moraine Valley. Lisa Lopez rounded out the singles wins with a 6-0, 6-3 win over Elgin.

In doubles, Buckman and Sapozhnikova won 6-0, 6-3 over Elgin; Jamie Johnson and Becki Ziolek won 7-5, 7-6 in the toughest match over Moraine Valley and Karen Leckman and Lopez won 6-0, 6-0 over Moraine Valley.

"We played very well. Moraine Valley is a very good team. They were the only conference team we lost to last year. But our girls are peaking at the right time and won convincingly in singles," CLC Coach Dick Watson said.

Moraine Valley figures to be just one of the foes looking to stumble CLC as the regional nears Oct. 6 at College of DuPage.

"They will be waiting for us," Watson said of the home team. CLC downed COD in dual match play.
